The police of San Francisco believe that, after having committed the crime, he left America and returned to Austria, and the police of Vienna are now trying to find him. As a young officer, at the age of 19, Blanther served during the occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovna by the Austro-Hungarian army in 1878. He had to defend with his company the position of a battery against the attack of the Bosnian insurgents, who were in superior force. Almost all of the men of his company and of the battery were killed or wounded. Blanther and a sergeant remained untouched. He commanded and loaded and fired a gun with his own hands and forced the insurgents to retire. Rolley hurried to the barn for his rig, leaving his wife preparing to go with him. On opening his barn door he was knocked down with clubs. Staggering to his feet he tried to resist his assailant, but was again attacked from the rear by the second man. His skull was crushed and four ribs broken. When he was unconscious, the ruffans went through his pockets without finding the booty.

They returned to the house, and demanded that Mrs. Rolley inform them as to where the money was. She refused to do so, and, after beating her in vain, they held her over a natural gas blaze until she could not endure the torture longer. Blackened and blistered, and covered with bruises, she was compelled to reveal the hiding place of the money.

The President Anxiously Awaiting a Report from Gen. Lee-What Senator Morgan Thinks of the Situation.

MY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIREL (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, June 22.—A written request was filed at the State Department today that the good offices of the United States be exerted with Spain toward securing the transfer of Julio Sanguilly from Havana to Madrid, there to be released on bail or parole until final action was taken on the appeal of his case. The paper was signed by Manuel case. The paper was signed by Manuel Sanguilly brother of the prisoner, and José Rodriguez, who had been co-operating with the Havana council for the prisoner. Sanguilly was convicted last December, and has been in prison pending an appeal to the court of last resort at Madrid. It was through the active efforts of the authorities here active efforts of the authorities here supplemented by Consul-General Williams, that he was given a civil trial on the charge of rebellion. He was convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for life. On another charge of complicity with the insurgents in kidnapping, he was acquitted.

The American citizenship figured largely in the proceedings, but was not decisive in securing his release. Precedents are cited in the application submitted to the State Department. It is pointed out also that it would be of advantage to have the prisoner before the court when the case is heard for under Spanish procedure the court reviews not only law but facts. Owing to many favorable circumstances in Sanguilly's case, it is believed the department will be disposed to request in a conciliatory and friendly spirit that leniency be shown the prisoner.

"ANNEXATION" THE CRY.

rival of a Special Messenger fr Consul-General Lee.
(BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.)

NEW YORK, June 22.—(Special Dispatch.) There was a report current today on good authority that religious services were omitted on some of the vessels in the Brooklyn navy yard yes-terday because the crews were at work, and that at least two vessels were beterday because the crews wer and that at least two vessels were being prepared to start at once for imnediate service in Cuban waters. As it is a rule not to omit religious serv ices on Sunday, except in cases of emer-gency, the omission is regarded as significant.

Steamship Yumuri, which arrived to-day from Havana, brought among her passengers F. M. Ryan, a special messenger, bearing reports on the con-dition of the island of Cuba from Con-the United States will own closs.

THAT FORTHCOMING REPORT.
WASHINGTON, June 22.—A day or two at least must elapse before the report which Consul-General Lee is said to have forwarded Saturday can reach the State Department. It is not clear whether the report will come by mail or whether Gen. Lee will avail himself of the services of Internal Revenue Collector Ryan as a messenger, as has been intimated might be the case. As there has been much speculation as to what has called forth this particular report from the Consul-General, it can be stated that, aside from some brief cablegrams announcing his arrival and the receipt of instructions, nothing has yet been heard officially from the new Consul-General, so that a report from him in the ordinary course of consular routine is fully due.

While it is true that consular officers under their general instructions are expected to report to the State Department any event that might be of interest to our government, it cannot be learned that Gen. Lee was under any instructions to make a report upon the policy to be pursued toward Cuba. For such infor-THAT FORTHCOMING REPORT.

Gen. Lee was under any instructions to make a report upon the policy to be pursued toward Cuba. For such information, respecting the military altuntion as he could gather while pent up in Havana, and at a distance from the fighting line, the State Department would be grateful, and it would carry weight, in view of the military experience of the Consul-General, but, after all, his report will be of value in exact accordance with the facts contained, and it is hardly to be supposed that the Consul-General will go beyond such the Consul-General will go beyond such a statement.

It is not supposed in official circles, that he will attempt to shape the policy of the State Department as to recognition of belligerency or of independence, which must be decided in Washington after contemplation of a field broader than is open to the perception of an official stationed in Cuba. At present the State Department is giving more attention to the grievances of American citizens than to the other subject of the propriety of interference in the strife between the Spanlards and the Cubans, and to this end has been pushing a vigorous correspondence with Hannis Taylor, our Minister at Madrid. The purpose is to prevent, so far spossible, depredations on the property of Americans in Cuba, and especially the recurrence of such affairs as the ill-treatment of the Delgados, father and son, and their servants.

Some nice questions of diplomacy are rence of such affairs as the ill-treatment of the Delgados, father and son, and their servants.

Some nice questions of diplomacy are involved in the adjustment of these matters, as for instance in the Delgado case, is in issue the whole question of how long an American resident in Cuba can preserve his American citizenship where he has practically given up his allegiance to his native or adopted country, and has concentrated all his material interests in the Island. The treatment of such matters is sufficient to engage the attention of the State Department just now. It is regarded as improbable that there will be any immediate change of policy pursued toward the general subject of relations with Spain, particularly as the prevalence of the rainy season in Cuba has operated largely to restrict military operations there.

The department adopted its present line of policy respecting the Cuban revolt after obtaining the best evidence in its reach, and there is no reason to the island recently of sufficient importance to warrant a radical departure. Gen. Lee has been in Cuba only its reach, and even with his military training it is believed that he can scarcely have arrived at a conclusion as to the status of the revolt upon which he is willing to risk his reputation; but, however this may be, it is certain that the State Department will not make a change in its policy without mature consideration, and does not expect it can be stated positively to receive any report from Gen. Lee that would require at this time to make an issue.

MORGAN CRITICIZES CLEVELAND.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A special to the Herald from Washington says that it is with no little concern that the Pres-ident and Secretary Olney are awaiting the confidential reports from Consul-General Lee on the situation in Cuba. Until the reports have arrived the au-thorities will not, of course, discuss their probable action upon them. It may be stated that the situation will may be stated that the situation will have to be very grave and the emergency great to induce the President to interfere in the Cuban affair at the present time. "Congress was allowed to adjourn without making any provision at all for meeting an emergency such as might arise as a result of the consideration of Gen. Lee's report. The President knew full well, if he had so desired, that Congress would have given him all the authority he desired, and would have adjourned for its vacation just the same. As I have stated, all the President can do, no matter what facts may be contained in Gen. Lee's report, will be to recognize the belligerency of the Cubans. There can be no armed intervention without the consent of Congress, for another clause in the section I have above referred to, which states that if the demand of the President for the release of an American be delayed or refused, the President shall use such means, not amounting to acts of war, as he may think necessary and proper to obtain or effect the release. He is, therefore, prevented from taking any steps in the direction of armed intervention.

"Everybody knows the facts about the Cuban affair except the administrament of the game." This statement was made by Senator Morgan, chairman of the sub-committee of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate. Senator Morgan is very bitter against the President because he does not think that official treated the Senate fairly in the Cubans matter.

CHIRCH-GOERS APPLAUD.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The congregation at the People's Church, McVicker's Theater, broke out with applause several times during the course of Dr. Thomas's sermon Sunday. He was speaking of the cause of Cuba. It was while 'dwelling on this point that the big congregation interrupted by cheers and hand-clapping.

He said: "The slaughter of Christians in Armenia and the butchery of patriot Cubans by Spain seems terrible to the present age because of its nobler humanity.

This not right that the Turks should massacre the Armenians; the powers of the world should step in and stop it. It is not right that Spain should crush patriots in Cuba and this country should send forth an army and navy to stop it. I wish that the plank in the Republican platform had gone forth as it was first published." CHURCH-GOERS APPLAUD.

BURNED A CUBAN FAMILY.

NEW YORK June 22.—The World says that the American three-masted schooner Mabel Hooper, of Rockland, Me., which has just arrived in this harbor, brings news of fresh atroctites by the Spanish troops in Cuba. The Hooper, sailed ten days ago from Sagua, on the north coast of Cuba and in Santa Clara province. While at that port, the American Consul told the captain of the Hooper in substance this story:

"The Spanish commander of the post there had orders from Havana to see to it that all the tobacco planted near Sagua should be taken to that city. A large tobacco plantation, about three miles south of Sagua, is owned by Mr. Gonzales, said to be an American citizen. The Spanish commander summoned Gonzales to his headquarters and asked why he had falled to comply with the captain-general sproclamation. Gonzales explained that the Spanish troops had taken all his horses and cattle and he could not cart his tobacco.

"I am satisfied with your explanation, said the Spanish commander, you may return to your plantation. The Spaniard then sent for a young lieutenant and instructed him to take a guard and escort Mr. Gonzales to his plantation. Upon arrival at the plantation Mr. Gonzales was met by his wife and their five small children. You may return to your plantation. "Shortly afterward the soldiers piled a lot of dry grass and shavings about the house and set fire to it. The smoke soon compelled the family to leave, and as they walked out of the rear door, the front of the building being in flames, all were shot down. The lieutenant reported to his commander that Gonzales and his family had tried to escape and his family he becam furious."

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Post tomorrow will say:

"A very interesting letter was received today by a relative from Gea. Lee. It was written on the 12th, and deals pretty fully with Cuban affairs. The Spanish authorities, the general says; have treated him with great courtesy, and Capt.-Gen. Weyler has granted every request thus far preferred, even allowing him to visit the prison where the captured Americans are confined.

"The Spanish troops, he says, are fairly well drilled, but under a system of tactics and manual totally different from anything the general has ever seen. As to the insurgents, they practically have control of the island. Their emissaries come in and go out of the towns and cities as they will, and he believes the native population is in sympathy with them. As to the inhumanity of the Spanish coffmander, Gen. Lee expresses himself in the plainest terms.

"They do not regard the laws of modern warfare, nor the usages customary among civilized nations, at all' the adds: 'From either quarter there is the same testimony concerning the barbarities of the Spanish soldiers. Some of the evidence I have heard would be beyond belief did I not know it to be most reliable. Violations of women, the plundering of inoffensive citizens, murder, every form of rapine, have been inflicted on natives of the island, and it takes very little, indeed, to place you under suspicion."

"Gen. Lee doubts if peace could be made now short of a basis of absolute independence and freedom from Spanish control."

A PROFOUND SENSATION.

A PROFOUND SENSATION.

A PROFOUND SENSATION.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says the profoundest sensation has been caused here by the news of the alleged purport of a report by Consul-General Lee to President Cleveland on the state of affairs in Cuba, which is said to be on the way from Havana to Washington. The intelligence is difficult to exaggerate. All classes of the community are greatly wrought up, but the commotion is especially great in parliamentary and political circles. The lobbles of the Senate were extremely animated just before Senator Comas began an energetic anti-American speech on moving an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, asking the government to annul all treaties between Spain and the United States.

The impression is general among politicians and military men that the government will be requested to withdraw Consul Lee's exequateur if he really has expressed opinions as unfavorable to Spanish rule in Cuba as report credits him with having done.

The Minister of Colonies introduced in the Cortes today a bill authorizing the government to expend in the war in Cuba as much of the colonial and imperial revenues as may be necessary to secure success, and also authorizing A PROFOUND SENSATION.

Democrats Are Out of the Fight.

Moreover a Free-silver Policy Means Disruption.

Candidate for Governor, but, a Majority for Altgeld. Texas Gossip. (BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.)

NEW YORK, June 22.—(Special Dispatch.) The disruption of the Democratic party is predicted by William C. Whitney in case the Chicago convenion adopts a free-silver platform and tion adopts a free-silver platform and names free-silver candidates. Just how disruption would be effected he indicated in his talk today.

"It seems to me impossible," said he, "there should be fewer than two silver candidates if the Chicago convention should nominate one. With the vote of the free-silver men divided there would be no hope of success in either of these candidates. I believe there will be two silver tickets put in the field these candidates. I believe there will be two silver tickets put in the field because of the bitterness of feeling which exists in some sections between the Democrats and Populists. This is especially the case in the Southern States, where the bitterest foes the Democrats have are the Populists. It would be next to impossible to get a Southern Populist to vote for a silver candidate nominated as a Democrat, and it would be equally difficult to get a Southern Democrat to vote for a Populist Presidential candidate. Why, it will be much easier to get Democrats to vote for a Republical candidate than to attempt to reconcile the crats to vote for a Republical candidate than to attempt to reconcile the differences of these free-silver men of the South and get them together on one platform, voting for the same man."

As to the effect of a free-silver platthe East and North, he said it was not necessary to talk. In reply to a question as to the time when he will go to Chicago, Whitney said: "I don't know. I do know, though, where I would like to be just now, and that is on the ocean enjoying myself. I had engaged a stateroom on the Teutonic, in which I have crossed several times. The sun shines all day through the ports, which can be kept open, and a fellow can just lie there and read novels and enjoy a season of relaxation. I wish I were there now."

Whitney's regret was more pronounced, because he said he believed the fight to be made was a hopelses one. Just here he referred to the fact that he had participated in three national conventions, those of 1876, 1884 and 1892, that had nominated victorious candidates.

WIIL LET THE PEOPLE ALONE. WIIL LET THE PEOPLE ALONE.

PEORIA (III.,) June 22.—There has been no slate made of the State ticket to be nominated here tomorrow at the Democratic State Convention. Gov. Altgeid and Chairman Hinrichsen say that they intend to let the representatives of the people nominate whomever the majority favors. Of course the different candidates have been discussed informally as to availability, strength and fitness for office. Atty-Gen. Maloney says he would not accept a renomination. Chairman Hinrichsen said today that he did not believe the delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention would be instructed.

"Had Col. William E. Morrison remained in the field," he said, "he could have had the delegation instructed for him without trouble. As it is, I am confident the Illinois delegation will go into the national convention uninstructed."

As to taking up Senator Teller as a Presidential candidate, neither the Governor nor the Secretary of State thought it possible.

A UNIQUE CONVENTION. PEORIA (Ill.,) June 22.—Never before in the history of Illinois politics has there been a political convention as unique as that to be convened tomorrow promises to be. It will be called to order without a single candidate for the nomination for Governor. Of course everybody says Gov. Altgeld will be nominated. According to W. H. Hinrichsen, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, 96 per cent. of the delegates to the convention has been instructed for him, and the others are solid for him. On the other hand, Gov. Altgeld says he is not a candidate. Several months ago he even went so far as to say that he would not accept the nomination, but the Democratic leaders declare they will force him to accept. leaders declare they will force him to accept.

Every delegate who has arrived in the city, and there are hundreds of them, has called upon the Governor today. And every one of them told him he was their choice and that no one else would do. In the conversation which Gov. Altgeld has had with delegates who have consulted him, he has had but little to say regarding himself, nor has he permitted them to induige themselves. His whole thought and talk has been regarding the national convention to be held in Chicago week after next.

LONDON, June 22.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says the Spanish government has no official confirmation of Consul-General Lee's alleged report to President Cleveland. If it is true, his stay in Havana will be a difficult one.

The Minister of the Colonies today asked the Cortes for unlimited authority to raise loans, guaranteed by all the revenues of Spain and Cuba, to carry out operations in Cuba.

"I can say authoritatively," said Chairman Hinrichsen tonight, "that the Governor will accept. Of course we all know he has frequently said he would not accept that nomination, but I know personally that recent developments have changed his course. He will make the race."

The ticket to be named at the convention, according to those best informed, will be as follows:
Governor, John P. Altgeld; Secretary of State, T. J. Medill of Rock Island; Treasurer, William P. Pickett of Taylorville; Attorney-General, A. S. Trude, Chicago; Auditor, W. Brinton, Tuscola. Delegates-at-large, John P. Altgeld and Judge S. B. McConnell of Chicago; W. H. Hinrichsen of Jacksonville and ex-Congressman George B. Fithian of Newton or B. G. Parsons of Shawneetown.

AUSTIN (Tex.,) June 22.—Delegates to the two Democratic conventions which meet here tomorrow are coming in. The silver wing is getting its forces mustered slowly, and the indications are that there will not be more than five or six hundred delegates present. The silver men have about decided to send eight delegates to Chicago in order to harmonize their factions. This number will include. Hogg. Culberson, Reagan, Blake, Duncan, Balley and Chilton. There is some intimation that the convention will indore Bland for President though some members are talking of Teller.

LATER:—There will be two conventions. The silver men on the ground to-day say they will make? no concessions to anyone. The silver men are under the leadership of ex-Gov. Hogg. Gov. Culberson and ex-United States Senator John B. Eagan. and Senator Horace Chilton, who will be the first in order on the Chicago delegation. Congressman Bailey is also allied with this faction, and will doubtless go as a delegate.

tion, and will doubtless go as a delegate.

As to the matter of instructions, an effort is being made by some to have an uninstructed delegation in the hope that Teller will be in a position by that time to ofter some proposition looking to a fusion, though many are in favor of a straight-out intruction for Bland.

The gold men, while they have not the party machinery behind them, are still sanguine of success at Chicago, and say they will send their delegations to Chicago headed by George Clark and Rufus Hardy, two gold-standard men and prominent politicians.

A CHANCE FOR GOLD.

A CHANCE FOR GOLD.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) June 22.—The chances are tonight that the Democratic State Convention tomorrow will adopt a gold platform by a majority of two to one, although there are many delegates who favor silence on the subject, and still more who want a silver plank. A few of the delegates are here. Gen. Edward Bragg and Senator Vilas will probably be delegates atlarge. Some of the delegates will be for silver, but under the unit rule they will probably be smothered. T. F. Frawley of Eau Claire, selected for chairman, will make a strong administration and gold speech.

AUSTIN (Tex.) June 22.—The Democratic Congress Convention for this, the Ninth Congress District, met here today and renominated Joseph D. Sayers. He addressed the convention, and stated that he was unequivocally for free coinage at 18 to 1, and that that issue was the only one in which he differed from Cleveland. He also said there was no political doctrine that he would not advocate, and no political party he would not support rather than see the Populists gain control of the government. The platform adopted is for silver at 18 to 1, irrespective of the action of any other nation.

BUCKEYE DEMOCRACY. COLUMBUS (O.,) June 22.—Delegates coLUMBUS (O..) June 22.—Delegates to the Democratic State Convention are coming in slowly. The convention does not meet until Wednesday, all the pre-liminary work being done by the district delegates and at committee meetings tomorrow evening. Hon. John Mc-Mann of Dayton, having declined to act as temporary chairman, on the ground that he has been too frequently turned down by the party, the question of who will preside is being discussed, but the temporary chairman will not be named until the State Central Committee meets tomorrow.

there are no other candidates. The general talk is that he may be nominated by acclamation. The Governor was asked today is be would accept the nomination. He replied: "You can say I am non-committal on that point." Both the gold-standard and free-silever Democrats here freely admit he is the strongest man the party could put in the field. A delegation of lowa politicians have arrived to labor among the delegates with a view to obtaining instructions for Gov. Boies for President. A delegation from Missouri is working in the interest of Bland.

A UNIQUE CONVENTION. and eighty-two pledged to the gold standard, while sixty-five are doubtful. The gold-standard men only claim 100 to 125 delegates. The majority of the silver men is so great that the convention will probably adopt the unit rule. The delegates-at-large to the national convention will all be pronounced free-silver men of national repute. It is conceded that J. R. McLean of Cincinnati, Allen W. Thurman of Columbus and J. W. Bookwalter of Springfield will be three of the delegates-at-large to lay between L. E. Holden of Cleveland. E. B. Finley of Bucyrus and J. Blandin of Cleveland. There is a scarcity of candidates for places on the State ticket, and it is probable there will be some new names on it. Ex-Gov. Campbell arrived tonight, contrary to expectations, and announced that his name would be presented to the convention as a delegate-at-large. This rather complicated the situation, as the silver men are none too kindly disposed toward ex-Gov. Campbell who ran on a gold platform last year. Charles P. Allen of Clevend is as on an aspirant for the honor of delegate-at-large, with chances very much in his favor. He is thought to be the most probable man for the fourth place. It is practically settled tonight that Col. W. A. Taylor will be temporary chairman of the convention.

SEVENTH TEXAS DISTRICT. WACO (Tex.,) June 22.—R. L. Henry of Waco was nominated for Congress by the Seventh Congress District Democratic convention today. The plaform declares for free silver at 16 to 1.

MOVING THE A.P.A.

Yes, we have talked over the financial plank, but we have not yet prepared a draft of it. I do not anticipate any great opposition from silver people in the State convention."

There will be another conference at Senator Hill's residence tomorrow. The names of W. R. Grace and Francis Scott are mentioned tonight for, the fourth delegate-at-large. W. S. Bissell of Buffalo is also mentioned, but is not believed to have a very extensive backing. The other delegates-at-large will be Senators Hill and Murphy and ex-Gov. Flower.

WILL HAVE TO HUSTLE.

WILL HAVE TO HUSTLE.

SARATOGA (N. Y.,) June 22.—That the Democratic convention to be held on Thursday will be a bustling, hustling affair is evidenced by the fact that tonight, thirty-six hours before the event, there is hardly a sprinkling of politicians here and the leaders have not been heard from. There are no definite plans known, aithough it is generally conceded that the platform will be for a gold standard and the delegates-at-large, David B. Hill, Roswell P. Flower, Edward Murphy and either William C. Whitney, Frederick R. Coudert or Charles S. Fairchild. It is probable that Hon. Boyd Thatcher will be chairman of the convention which will be called to order on Wednesday by Chairman Hinckley of the State Committee. In the afternoon or evening session the convention will finish its work. The feature of the convention promises to be the general harmony that will prevail between the Tammany Committee and State Committee.

At the Syracuse convention the representatives of the State Democracy were refused seats in the convention as delegates. This year, however, they have fifteen regularly-elected delegates, and their seats are not contested. The only contests noted are those of the Shepard Democrats from Brooklyn. It is said they will not be seated.

GATHERING OF THE CLANS.
INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.,) June 22.—The Democrats of Indiana are gathering in great numbers for the State convention which will be held Wednesday. It is probable that two days will be devoted to the convention. The free-silver delegates will include 1500 of the 1747 delegates, the majority of the gold-standard element coming from Indianapolis. There is a long list of candidates for the various offices, the prospects being that B. F. Shively of South Bend will be nominated for Governor.
The Free-silver Executive Committee has made all the arrangements for the convention. R. C. Bell of Fort Wayne will be chairman and Dan McDonald of Plymouth, secretary. The delegates-at-large will probably be Senators Turple and Voorhees, Judge McCabe of the Supreme Court and G. V. Menzies of Mount Vernon. The convention promises to be the largest ever held by the party in the State. GATHERING OF THE CLANS.

RUSSELL IS FOR WHITNEY.

BOSTON. June 22.—Ex-Gov. William E. Russell has issued a statement of his position relative to the Democratic Presidential nomination. In it he positively states that his name will not be presented to the Chicago convention; that he will go to Chicago, not as a delegate, but as a citizen in the declaration of his party for a gold standard, and furthermore, he will urge all his friends and supporters to de their utmost to secure the selection of William

JUDGE CALDWELL'S HOPE.

DENVER (Colo.,) June 22.—The News prints a long interview with Judge Henry C. Caldwell of Little Rock, Ark., who is spending his vacation in Colorado. The Judge expressed the hope that the free-silver forces will be united upon one candidate. Regarding the mian most likely to be selected, he said:

"There are plenty of good men. I thing the Populists and silver Republicans will support Senator Teller, Mr. Bland or any pronounced and reliable silver man. who is known to have the requisite courage and resolution, without regard to his previous politics."

In regard to Senator Teller's candidacy in the South, he said: "The splendid moral courage which he exhibited when he repudiated the anti-Republican action of his party at St. Louis has been exhibited on other occasions. More than once in the Senate he has defied the party lash, and the behests of the party caucus, and shood up in defense of the rights of the Southern people. His determined hostility to the Force Bill defeated that measure, and has endeared him to the Southern people, and should he be the candidate he will be enthusiastically supported by them. I know that he is universally regarded by the leading Democrats of the South as an able, courageous, patriotic and broad-minded statesman and that upon the supreme issue now before the American people he is the acknowledged leader of the right."

GIVEN A REMINDER.
PUEBLO (Colo.) June 22.—Senator Frank J. Cannon of Utah was greeted at the Union Depot before 8 o'clock this morning, on his way to Salt Lake City, from St. Louis, by a crowd of over five hundred people, who cheered him to the echo as he left the train, while a band rendered stirring music. Hon. I. W. Stanton, a close friend of Senator Teller. made a brief but felicitous address of welcome and presented Senator Cannon with a sold silver bolt. In reply, Senator Cannon paid a glowing tribute to Senator Teller. He said that if the people of the United State will support Teller and elect him, they will have the greatest President that has entered the halls of the Capitol since the time of Abraham Lincoln. With Delegate A. C. Clevland of Nevada, who accompanied him, he was driven to the Grand Hotel, where an informal reception was held, a constant stream of people passing by for two hours, and shaking the silver men's hands. The visitors were driven about the city, and left at 12:55 o'clock for the West.

It had been hoped to have Senator Cannon address the public at the county convention of the silver party this evening, but he could not remain. Senator Teller was unanimously indorsed for President.

A FREE LANCE FOR GOLD.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A special to the World from Boston says that exgov. William E. Russell, New England's Democratic candidate for the Presidency, today said:

"With the earnest request of Mr. Whitney and others. I am going to Chicago to give whatever help I can in the struggle in the Democratic party for sound money against the free coinage of silver. My own views on the subject are well known, and have been often stated. Believing the issue to be of the greatest importance, not only to the country, but to the present and future of the Democratic party, I cannot not remain inactive, if it is thought I can be of any service at Chicago.

"I cannot, however, go to Chicago under the least suspicion that I go for any personal reasons, nor can I take part in this fight, embarrassed by any personal interest in the result. I shall, therefore, decline to have my name presented to the convention as a candidate."

resented to the convention as a candidate."
Russell was asked if he thought free silver would win.
"I sincerely hope it will not, for I earnestly believe it most disastrous to the country and to our party. A Democratic National Convention has always been a deliberative body, open to argument and reason. I think this convention will be, and that whatever the views of the delegates at present may be, they will hesitate long before they commit the party to the cause of free silver. I believe in making the strongest fight possible for sound money and the gold standard, and shall not give up the fight until the yotes are counted."

To add to the horror, a fire broke out in the ruins shortly after the accident, but it was extinguished before reaching any of the victims.
Carelessness of the grossest sort is responsible for the collapse of the lodging-house and the loss of life it caused. From the statements of several people it is evident that a disaster had been expected. Warnings were given and unheeded. Contractor P. Gleason, who had charge of the construction of the underpinning or street work on which the building was raised, says he explained to some of the other workmen several days ago that if they continued operations along the line on which they were working, there was bound to be a collapse.

The resources of the Receiving Hospital were totally inadequate to care for the wounded. Nine people were taken to that institution within three-quarters of an hour, and while two were being treated in the operating-room. the remaining seven were huddled in the outer office, where they writhed and groaned in agony until the doctors were able to attend to them. Two women gave up the only sofa in the room to a man whose injuries were so painful that he could neither stand nor sit.

Mrs. Joseph Byrne and her sister-inlaw, Miss Sarah Byrne, were next taken in. Their clothing was almost torn from their bodies, and they were bleeding from gashes in their heads, and crying with pain. They were barders in the house. Mrs. Byrne was in the second floor when the building fell, but her sister-in-law was in her room on the top floor, and went down with the flooring: She was the only person on the top floor at the time, and her body was found pinioned by two heavy planks that lay across her chest.

"It was only the matter of a moment," said Miss Byrne. "I was seated in my room on the top floor and was waiting for my sister-in-law to return. She had gone for Mr. McKeown, proprietor. I was reading a letter. My mind was occupied with that letter, and inst as I had finished it I heard the floor creak. I did not pay any attention to the noise, but when it creaked again I became afraid, and I was just going to the door, when I heard a slow, rumbling noise, as if on the floor beneath me. Just as I opened the door I turned around and saw the floor on the opposite side of the room cave in. Then I fell myself, going down and down. I uttered a cry and grabbed the door. In an instant I knew what was happening. I remembered that the building was being fixed. I thought of my sister-inlaw and called for her. Planks and boards were going down with me, and guddenly I struck a beam and was hurled forward about twenty feet. Heaven only knows what happened then. I was struck on the head by a board and was knocked insensible. When I regained consciousness I was caught under two big planks.

"There I remained for fully half an hour. My pains were something terrible, but my thoughts of sister were worse. I could see the fire-engines pumping water on the ruins, but a great wall of boards kept the water from touching me. Then the men came and one of them saw me. There's a woman, he said, and as they carried me out I could see my sister-in-law carried out too. It is impossible to tell how I felt when the building was falling. I expected to be killed and the sixht of the boards as they crashed down upon me was something terrible."

H. Shepard, a young man who resides in Southern California and was staying at the house, was asleep when the building fell. He was on the first floor and was taken to the hospital to be treated for a broken leg.

Sketch of His Life.

Sketch of His Life.

Benjamin Hehn Bristow was born in Elkton, Todd county, Kentucky, June 20, 1832. He graduated at Jefferson College in Pennsylvania in 1851, studied law and was admitted to the bar of Kentucky in 1858. He began the practice of law at Elkton, and removed to Hopkinsville in 1858. At the beginning of the civil war, when the State was wavering between loyalty and secession, he entered the Union army as lieutenant-colonel of the Twenty-fifth Kentucky Infantry, and was engaged at the capture of Fort Donelson, and at the battle of Shiloh, where he was wounded. He afterward became colonel of the Eighth Kentucky Cavalry, and served throughout the war with distinction.

of the Eighth Kentucky Cavairy, and served throughout the war with distinction.

While still in the field he was elected to the State Senate for four years, but resigned at the end of two years, serving only from 1885 to 1885. He was United States District Attorney for the Louisville district from 1865 to 1870, and the ability with which he filled these offices led to his appointment as Solictor-General of the United States on the organization of the Department of Justice in 1870. In 1872 he resigned to become the attorney of the Texas Pacific Road, but soon returned to the practice of law at Louisville.

He was nominated Attorney-General of the United States in December, 1873, but was not confirmed. President Grant appointed him Secretary of the Treasury on June 3, 1874, and this-office he filled acceptably until the end of June, 1876, when he resigned, owing to the demands of his private business. At the Republican National Convention of that year, held in Cincinnati, he was a leading candidate for the Presidential nomination, receiving 113 votes on the first ballot. Since 1876, he had practiced his profession of law in New York City for a number of years.

ARGENTINE BONDHOLDERS.

CHICAGO, June 22.—After a little over a week the lockout at the Chicago Rolling Mills was brkoen today by the Universal Construction Company, about two hundred men going to work. The lockout was precipitated, in a strike among the heaters employed in the mills, and trouble was anticipated with the renewal of operations. No rioting took place, however, and so far no assaults have been reported.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The hearing of the Ashley-Baldwin case, which entered upon its sixth week, was resumed before Judge Slack today. William Peters testisfied that he was for some years in the employ of Melville Lawrence as clerk at both his Lake Tahoe and Arcadia hotels. He was so employed when Miss Ashley arrived at the Oakwood in the spring of 1893 and remembered her being there. He corroborated the testimony of his former employer and Mrs. Alverson as to the plaintiff's actions during the time she was guest at the hotel.

Upon one occasion, the plaintiff drove off from the hotel alone in a cart about 7 o'clock in the evening, and did not return until 1 or 2 o'clock the next morning when the witness helped her to alight from the vehicle. Her brother, E. Porter Ashley, was at the hotel at the time, and the witness stated that Lawrence took him to task for allowing his sister to stay out so late.

Lawrence took him to task for allowing his sister to stay out so late.

Upon another occasion, the witness said that, while a card party was going on in the reception room, Harold came to him and asked him where Falvey and Miss Ashley were. They had been in the sitting-room in the early part of the evening, but went up to the second floor together. Although there was but one lamp at the head of the stairs and no other light, he saw them coming out of E. Porter Ashley's room later on, Mrs. Harold having called him upstairs.

The depositions of Nellie T. Bennett, a clerk, and Milo M. Potter, proprietor of the Hotel Westminster at Los Angeles, were then read, but nothing new was elicited from them and, after Detective Wood had been recalled by Attorney Crittenden for the purpose of showing that he did not see or hear from Baldwin between the interviews at Saratoga and Sheepshead Bay, the case going over until 11 o'clock in the morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—President Jordan of the Stanford University head of the Bering Ses Commission that will endeavor to settle the fur seal question by going over the sealing grounds with representatives of England, Canada and Japan, has startefor Seattle with his secretary, to take passage from that port on the United States Fish Commissioner's steamer Albatross, which has been especially fitted up and detailed for the expedition.

The exact nature of the commission is not yet known, as sealed orders are waiting Dr. Jordan at Seattle. "The ultimate purpose," said Prof. Jordan last night during a hasty meal just before train time, "is undoubtedly to settle the Bering seal question. We will visit three groups of islands—the Pribyloff, an American possession; the Commander, owner by Russia, and the Kurile group, belonging to Japan. When we visit the last-named we will be joined by two commissioners from Japan. I have not yet heard their names. It is an international affair, though I suppose the foreign commissioners are

"The investigations have to do entirely with the fur-bearing animals, seal and fur otter. Of course I shall go ishing to some extent, and probably pick up some interesting specimens."

Dr. Jordan will receive from the government $4000 for his three months' service in an expedition that to him will be much to him in the nature of a pleasant vacation trip. At the same time his salary of $10,000 a year as president of the Stanford University goes on whether school keeps or not.

TUCSON (Ariz.,) June 22.—Advices from San Bernardino ranch say that Lieuts Averill and Rice, with two companies of cavalry, sixty scouts, including the White Mountain, Yuma and Papago Indians, were joined by Mexican troops and are now pursuing south through Sonora. The plan is first to go to the Yaqui village, wher the "Kidis suposed to be; then the troops will separate or deploy in squads and move northward, with the hope of forcing the renegades to seek shelter on this side of the line, where they will be met by troops in the vicinity of San Bernardino and Cloverdale. The troops will be kept informed of the presence of the renegades by telegraph signals.

It will take from five to six weeks to make the campaign. Col. Sumner has established headquarters in the field at San Bernardino, and has given orders to push the campaign with relentless vigor.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Charles SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Charles L. Fair and his atorneys may have a merry chase to catch a glimpse of the two deeds conveying over $1,000,000 worth of his father's propery to Mrs. Nettie R. Craven, which were recorded on Friday last. It is in the range of probability that Mrs. Craven will refuse to obey the order of Judge Slack to show these documents in court this evening.

to show these documents in court this evening.

To begin with her attorneys doubt very seriously the power of Judge Slack to compel the production of these instruments on the broad ground that they were executed anterior to the date of the Fair wills, and consequently not material to the contest now going on. In the second place, the deeds have dropped out of sight for the time being, and it is a question if any of the four people upon whom the order of court was served have them now in their possession.

Mrs. Craven made two sensational moves in the contest today. In the afternoon she filed ejectment proceedings against the heirs of James G. Fair to oust them from possession of the property at Pine and Sansome streets, and the block on Mission and Eleventh streets, and at the same time to recover in all $220,000 for back rents and damages.

In the evening, acting on the advice of her attorneys, Mrs. Craven refused to take the stand, and be sworn in response to the summons of Judge Slack, ordering her and her attorneys and advisers to produce any papers or written documents of the late millionaire in their posession. For this defiance of the court Mrs. Craven was sentenced to twenty-four hours in the branch county jail, but, at the solicitation of her attorneys, execution of the order was stayed until 2 o'clock tomorrow in the hope that she may change her mind.

The two deeds that were recorded are still missing. Attorney Heggerty believes now that he will never see them.

During the first part of the morning the American oarsmen were coached in pair-oared work, which was the feature of the day's training, and will be so from this time on. ance at 11:45 o'clock this 'morning. They went to Temple Island and back at a twenty-five-to-the-minute stroke. Before going into the shell, "Bob" Cook took each member of the Yale team in turn out in a pair-oared shell. He appeared well-satisfied with the progress made, and said there would not be any changes in the composition of the crew. Cook has evidently abandoned definitely the short-stroke idea, and the Americans are now rowing the regular Yale stroke.

The Leanders were watched with the greatest of interest today. They seemed rather ragged in their paddling, during which they adopted a stroke of thirty to the minute. In spurting, the Leanders rowed thirty-six to the minute. They were coached by Lehmann, and will row a fast stroke during the race for the grand challenge cup. The Yale men were delighted with their trip on the Thames yesterday.

Among the callers at the Yale headquarters were Charles Dana Gibson and Mr. Collins, the United States Consul at London. Guy Nyckals called at the Yale headquarters this afternoon. The crew were out at 6:30 o'clock this evening, and rowed for an hour and a quarter at twenty-five strokes.

The New College crew made their first appearance this afternoon, and are considered by the Yale men to be in better shape than the Leander crew. The smooth blade of the latter, however, attracts attention; but their stroke is shorter and not so heavy as Yale's, besides it is not as steady and has a short swing.

Capt. Treade appeared to be tired by work today and said: "Yale has had some hard practice. We rowed a mile and a haif at a stretch."

Bob Cook was on horseback and also coached the men in a pair-oared boat. The weights of the men sire lower than when they landed; but they are all in good condition, showing excellent spirit and have good speed.

(BY ASSOCIATED PIESS WIRE.)

BUFFALO (N. Y.,) June 22.—
"Shadow" Maber disappointed many people who expected to see him a mark for Tommy Ryan at the meeting of the welterweights for a twenty-round bout before the Buffalo Empire Athletic Club tonight. Maber made an excellent showing, and for eight rounds the 2000 spectators were treated to as pretty an exhibition of boxing as could be asked for. Both men had science, and Ryan was just beginning to come to the conclusion that he was up against a harder game than he looked for, when a fortunate punch in the stomach disabled his opponent.

Both Ryan and Maber could have been better trained. Ryan weighed 145 pounds and Maber six pounds more, but when they faced each other in the ring the difference in weight made them look like a lightweight against a middleweight. Matchmaker Brooks of the club acted as referee.

Maber received a crushing blow in the stomach in the ninth round, which knocked him down. His seconds threw up the sponge, and the decision was given to Ryan.

In an address of welcome to the Governor, Mr. Ingalls, speaking for the court, referred incidentally to the Venezuelan trouble. He said His Excellency had arrived at a dark time in the history of the colony, but they hoped that the cloud overhanging them would soon pass, and that the sunshine would appear. Sir Augustus expressed his thanks for the greeting, and then proceeded to business by submitting a plan for the development of the interior along the lines proposed by Chamberlain last fall. It was in the form of a resolution reciting that as a survey had been authorized to a point on the Esquibo coast or the lower Cuyuni River, it was now expedient to extend the survey between the Kartuma and Barima River. The resolution authorized the expenditure of $3000 for the survey.

The government secretary explained vey.

The government secretary explained that it was expected to have a railway eighteen miles long in this district. He urged its advantage to the gold fields, without referring to its military and

Opposition to the plan soon developed in the court, led by Mr. Dargan. He said he understood the government already had made a contract with Mr. Dardande to build the railroad, adding that it was a proposition that the government should pay for the survey. Other members of the court spoke in the same line. The government secretary and the Attorney-General attempted to overcome the opposition. They were warned, however, that if the resolution was put to a vote, it They were warned, however, that if the resolution was put to a vote, it would be defeated. Thereupon the new Governor-General withdrew the resolution. As this was his first step after arriving, in the developing policy of the British Colonial Office, the enforced withdrawal was regarded as an inauspicious opening for Sir Augustus's administration of affairs connected with the Venezuelan question.

THE ORDEAL.

THE ORDEAL. THE ORDEAL.

LONDON, June 23.—The Graphic, commenting upon the advices from Georgetown as to the arrest by the Venezuelan authorities of Harrison, the British official in charge of the laborers, says: "It seems that Venezuela overthrows the American commission, and is desirous of settling with us by the ordeal of battle. The duty of the British government is clear. Reparation must be immediately demanded and forced."

TWO SEPARATE QUESTIONS

TWO SEPARATE QUESTIONS. LONDON, June 23.-The Chronicle says of the news from Guiana: "It is intolerable that while the United States intolerable that while the United States and Great Britain are negotiating, the Venezuelans should take such action. We must tell the government at Caracas that they will have to release Harrison, apoligize for his arrest and make amends.

"Venezuela could not have adopted a more unfortunate action in her own interest. It is easy to see that an attempt will be at once made here to remove the frontier question from the region of argument and conciliation to the atmosphere of passion and prejudice, but the two questions must be kept apart. The boundary must be settled calmly, while the violence done to Harrison must be promptly undone." Attacked by Natives.

Attacked by Natives.

BULUWAYO. June 22,—A patrol of twenty-three of the horses bringing in women and children in an armored mule wagon, has a desperate fight with the rebellious natives near Salisbury. Seven of the patrol were killed, and four wounded, while fourteen of the horses and all of the mules were killed.

LONDON, June 22.—An Athens dispatch to the Times says the Turks are marking the Christian shops in Canea. Island of Crete, with a cross, and it is feared this means a general pillage or a massacre.

THE KINGS EXAMINED.

Tangled Complaint in a Criminal full of people yesterday morning at the hour set for the examination of Dr. Dora King, midwife, and I. J. King, her husband. The couple stand charged by W. B. Hinkle with having committed a criminal consention.

On account of the nature of the cass. Deputy District Attorney McComas asked that the examination be conducted with closed doors. To this the defendants and their lawyers strenuously objected, declaring they wanted everything done in the light of day, that they had nothing to conceal. Justics Morrison ruled in favor of the point they raised that the defense alone had the right to ask that the examination be conducted behind closed doors.

Then the complaint was read. That document was a good joke on Deputy District Attorney McComas. The gray-haired prosecutor was reminded many times yesterday of the slip made in a moment of forgetfuiness, an error which furnished much amusement to the court and spectators.

The attorney's mistake was that he had charged the abortion as having been committed upon the person of one Moritz Brunold. When the list of witnesses was called, a large and brawny man stood up in response to the name of Moritz Brunold. Attorney Davis of the defense was somewhat nonplussed for a moment, but he quickly recovered himself and asked the court to direct Moritz Brunold to shave his beard and dress as a woman of becoming modesty and taste should.

Everybody laughed, and Mr. McComas was obliged to acknowledge that it was one on him, and hastily prepared a new complaint to fit the case.

Mrs. Marie Brunold was put upon the stand. Very unwillingly and disjointedly she told how she visited the Kings in fear and told of her condition to the midwife, who said she could remedy that. Bailiff Appel was called on to act as German interpreter. hut the in fear and told of her condition to the midwife, who said she could remedy that. Bailiff Appel was called on to act as German interpreter, but the woman's testimony was nevertheless hard to make much of.

In the afternoon Brunold testified, and also Mrs. Annie Coburn. The latter testified that Dr. Dora King had told her she had committed a criminal operation on Mrs. Brunold. The examination finally went over until 8 o'clock this morning.

MISAPPLIED FUNDS.

Mrs. Brady Paid for Supporting Her Own Child.

A Supervisor's Peculiar Interest in a Lady Friend.

All that Was Done for Her Was Engineered by Woolman, Who Paid Her Bills with County Funds—A Lively Libel Suit.

In the case of Mary Brady against The Times for alleged libel, plaintiff's own witnesses have thus far disclosed a bad state of affairs in certain branches of San Diego county government. The plaintiff's own witnesses have shown that, on the motion of one Supervisor, who is the unnamed instigator and backer of this suit, county money was diverted from its proper channel to aid a person in whom the Supervisor took especial interest; that the method of making the transfer of children from a regularly-recognized charitable institution to plaintiff's care was in itself irregular; that the process of proving and paying her bills was a violation of the usage of the board; that she included one of her own children in the list of indigents without authority of the board, and received pay for the children support; that everything done for plaintiff's financial gain was engineered by this one Supervisor; that the children placed in her care were not properly kept.

were not properly kept.

THE TRIAL.

When Mary Brady's libel suit against The Times was called yesterday morning before Judge York, a motion was made by plaintiff's attorney to strike out all that portion of the evidence which relates to plaintiff's youngest child, Peter Brady.* For the care and custody of this child plaintiff was paid $10 a month out of the public funds of San Diego county. Counsel claimed that all the evidence upon this point was immaterial and irrelevant.
In behalf of the defendant, Senator Stephen M. White opposed the motion, saying that the evidence was material and of importance. Plaintiff originally testified that she had three children from the day nursery, and though her attorney asked her to tell all the circumstances of her arrangement with the Supervisors, it did not appear until the cross-examination that she was paid by the county for four children and that one of these was her own child. One charge in the alleged libel is that Supervisor Woolman liked the lady, and any evidence was relevant which showed that Woolman procured the payment to her of money out of the county treasury for the support of her cown child; it was competent to show how he arranged to let her put her hand into the public treasury. It was averred by the complaint that plaintiff's employment by the county was entirely proper and legitimate; this statement might be controverted and it was competent to show that she received pay from the county for the support of her own child. The court denied the motion and the evidence was allowed to stand. Plaintiff had no further evidence.

The first testimony offered in behalf of the defense was that of J. S. Buck, tion and the evidence was allowed to stand. Plaintiff had no further evidence.

The first testimony offered in behalf of the defense was that of J. S. Buck, one of plaintiff's witnesses. Mr. Buck was a member of the San Diego Board of Supervisors in 1892. He was familiar with the day nursery, as he frequently visited it. The children of people who were unable to care for them during the day were received at the day nursery. There were also homeless and friendless children. The children were well cared for and properly schooled. When too young for the public schools, the children were taught in the day nursery. They received medical care and necessary clothing without extra expense to the county. The county paid $12,50 per month for each child, and this covered board, clothing, care, medical attendance and schooling. When claims against the county were presented they were sworn to before the clerk. Witness never considered it proper for a Supervisor to administer the oath to a claimant and could not remember that it had ever been done except in the case of Mrs. Brady's two bills against the county, sworn to before two the county witness said that the children placed in Mrs. Brady's two bills against the county, sworn to before Supervisor Woolman. On crossexamination, witness said that the children placed in Mrs. Brady's charge were well cared for, but admitted that he did not see the children while they were in her hands.

A. G. Nason testified that he has lived in San Diego for eleven years. For the past seven years he has been president of the Humane Society. He has also been a member of the Board of Supervisors since the first Monday in January, 1893. Witness was the person who removed the day nursery children from Mrs. Brady's house, the first time merely to find the place. She lived down near the barracks. None of the Supervisors knew where she lived; two of the old board held overbut they did not know. Mrs. Brady did not live in a first-class part of the town. On the second visit witness found the children alone in the house; the door was opened by a little girl; there were five children from 2 to 5 years old, and witness talked with them. No adult or older person was in the house, or about the place to care for the children: "They were caring for themselves." Their-condition was untidy, the place was unsatisfactory and badly kept. Witness expected to find a much better place. He had repeatedly had occasion to examine the day nursery in his capacity of president of the Humane Society, and had seen all the children there. The children found at Mrs. Brady's were not in the condition that he was accustomed to see at the day nursery. The day nursery was a charitable institution maintained by private contributions, and by the various lodges of the city. The ladies of the city were in the habit of visiting it and making clothes for the children should be restored to the day nursery.

A certified copy of this order was offered in evidence by defendant's attorney.

On the third trip witness found the door open, and went into the house.

On the third trip witness found the door open, and went into the house. No one was there but the children. Witness waited fifteen or twenty min-No one was there but the children. Witness waited fifteen or twenty minutes, but no grown person appeared. The children were strangers to him; they were untidy and unkept Witness took them all away, five of them; by mistake he took one of Mrs. Brady's children. He saw Mrs. Brady afterward before the board; she offered some apology for the condition of the children, saying that it was Saturday evening, and they had not yet been washed and cleaned up. Their condition was just as bad when witness made his second visit, which was on Friday evening. Witness made his first visit to Mrs. Brady's house because of the numerous complaints made to him by prominent ladies of the city who were interested in charitable work. Witness had seen all the children that were kept at the day nursery; he was conversant with the methods employed there, and had been a constant visitor for seven years because of his position as president of the Humane Society. He was at the day nursery several times in 1892, prior to November 19, the day the children were taken to Mrs. Brady. The nursery was in first-class condition. Witness saw the children that Mrs. Brady had, after their return to the day nursery, and they were clean, well-cared for and in good condition. As to their condition in the two places there was no comparison; it was far better at the day nursery. Witness had known J. H. Woolman for eight years. Witness was asked whether, prior to the time when the children were removed from Mrs. Brady's it was common talk in San Diego that Supervisor Woolman had because, of his friendship for her. procured the children to be placed with her. This question was objected to, and objection was sustained. The day nursery was so called because a woman could take her child there for the day. while she was at work, and the child would be cared for. In addition, foundlings and deserted children were received. The children received schooling and medical care without textra charge to the county.

On cross-examination Mr. Nason said that he saw no difference in condition between Mrs. Brady's own children and those she had received from the day nursery; they were in worse condition than he expected, and worse than they should have been, in view of the fact that the county was paying Mrs. Brady's 10 a month for each child. When asked what it should cost to keep a child, witness replied that he had five children, and his salary was only 375 per month. He admitted that he had not paid expenses at it. Witness went to Mrs. Brady's at the instance of come of the keepers of the day nursery; they said Mrs. Brady's was not a fit place for the children. They were entirely disinterested, and were charitable women. They made no profit from the nursery, not a penny. The cost of properly supporting such children as these in question would be $2 or $3 a week. The day nursery spends $18 to $20 a month on the children. Mrs. Brady's a month on the children. Mrs. Brady lived in an undesirable part of town, near the bay. The water-front saloons, the lowest dives of the city, m lived in an undesirable part of town, near the bay. The water-front saloons, the lowest dives of the city, make the locality very poor.

Plaintiff's attorney asked whether one of the City Councilmen did not live near Mrs. Brady, but Senator White objected that this was no test of the morality of a neighborhood, and the court took the same view.

Miguel Estudillo testified that he was assistant clerk and clerk of the Board of Supervisors in 1891 and 1892; that he was familiar with the records. It was customary for the clerk to swear all claimants against the county, and he could not remember any case when a Supervisor swore the claimant.

Chester Gunn was then called to the stand. He was a member of the board while Mr. Woolman was a member. Witness remembered her employment by the board; personally, he had objected to it, but Mr. Woolman urged it. She had made application to Mr. Woolman. Witness was four years on the board, and did not remember any case of a claimant verifying a claim before a Supervisor. The day nursery was clean and the children were well fed and well kept. Witness visited the day nursery in his official capacity. He knew Mr. Brady. As to Mrs. Brady's employment in the County Hospital, Mr. Woolman told the board Mrs. Brady had applied for assistance; that a nurse was needed, and he advised the employment of Mrs. Brady. She remained two or three weeks. Mr. Estey, the superintendent of the hospital, is a brother-in-law of Mr. Woolman's, Witness objected to the removal of the children from the day nursery because they were well cared for, and because it was a charitable institution. which the board wanted kept up.

J. M. Dodge testified that he is deputy county clerk, and acting clerk of the Board of Supervisors, and that he has held office for four years. He was County Clerk from 1883 to 1889, and was familiar with the records. For four years he has known of the day nursery, and has occasionally visited it. It was carefully and thoroughly kept. Medical attendance and clothing were holuded in the

in the price paid by the county for each child.

Bernard Manning testified that he knows Mr. Brady well, and last saw him in San Diego a short time ago. Brady spent four or five weeks in San Diego within the last year. Witness said that he knew Mrs. Brady, and the only business he had ever seen her to be engaged in was selling fruit and cigars and keeping a restaurant on the plaza. In January, 1893, she was keeping a fruit store on F street. She has had no other business in the last few years. Witness has been deputy constable for six or eight years.

This concluded defendant's evidence.

Juan Vega in Trouble. Juan Vega, ex-convict, morphine fiend, was locked up in the City Jali last evening. Officer Talamantes met him evening. Officer Talamantes met him on Upper Main street carrying a pair of whiffle-trees. The policeman asked him where he got them. Vega made evasive replies and tangled himself all up. So Talamantes arrested him and took prisoner and whiffle-trees to the jail. Vega was sent to State's prison in 1891 for holding up a Chinaman; the arrest for that offense was made by officer Talamantes. Vega had previously served one term in the penitentiary.

Deputy Constable Fred Staples had a misfortune the other day. He is special watchman for a big stack of hay which watchman for a big stack of hay which stands near the corner of Washington and Los Angeles streets. A man came along and tossed his cigarette aside. It set fire to the dry grass around about. The blaze spread and in a few minutes the watchman's tent, his furniture, clothing and supplies were in ashes. Staples made a brave struggle and extinguished the blaze before it reached the 150 tons of hay.

BRITISH "ABHORRENCE" OF

English free-traders have good rea sons to "abhor" the protection principles of which Maj. McKinley is the foremost representative. The tariff which bore his name did more toward wresting from England her supremac in the line of manufactures than any other tariff ever in force in the United States. It did more, also, to build up American manufactures and to benefit merican workmen engaged in those upon our statute books. In proportion as British free-traders "abhor" the principles of tariff protection, as repreby McKinley and exemplified by the law which bore his name, Americans who are true to their country's pest interests will respect and believe

The period during which the McKinley law was in unchallenged operation was by far the most prosperous period the vaults of the treasury, is to be in the history of the United States. M'KINLEY'S PLEDGES

"It has been said by Mr. McKinley and by many of his political and per-sonal associates," says the Washing-ton Star, "that he is an unpledged candidate, and that if he goes into the White House he will enter that some-what desirable residence absolutely free from such incumbrances as have been like unto millstones around the necks of several Presidents. As a mat-ter of fact, McKinley is more heavily pledged than any other candidate of recent times. He is pledged to bring good times to everybody, to restore high wages, to give us big crops, low freight rates, plenty of work, and the million of other things incidental to

The Star speaks wisely and well. Maj. McKinley has pledged himself to give—so far as any President can give-just what it says: Prosperity to the country. He has pledged himself to do that through the principle he has at all times advocated: Protection to American industry. The idea embodied in those few words is not to him as a tinkling cymbal: it is not a theory; but, rather, as he himself has said: "A conviction." He and protection are one. The policy which he will inaugurate, when elected, will show that; while at the same time it will manifest itself as a further and fuller exemplification of those grand words of Lincoln: "A government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "No State, not even New York, which above all others is susceptible to foreign influence, ventures to protest against protection as the chief issue of the platform." This is eminently true and equally true is it that it will be paign. The people have made it so They have said, in unmistakable terms that they want American products American industry and American labo protected against those of foreign countries. They have accentuated demands by electing William McKinley the recognized exponent and champion of the American protective policy, the leader of their cause, and they will make it their business to see that the issue is never clouded, but that protection is, and will remain, the chief ssue of the campaign.

It has been suggested that in cas Mr. Huntington does not do anythin for the members of the City Council and the Mayor, who were of such service to him in connection with that harbor resolution, it would be only fit for the friends and admirers of Mr. changed front on this question. But Huntington to get some kind of little testimonial to his active and use ful local agents. Perhaps a fish dinner at the end of the long wharf would be as appropriate as anything. ORPHEUM. There is another breezy ORPHEUM. There is another breezy programme at the Orpheum this week, and there isn't a dull moment in the performance. No city in the land can boast a cleaner, brighter higher grade class of vaudeville acts than are afforded by the management of this house, and hast night's show was right up to high-water mark. Mile. Le Clair and Leelle do a travesty on Cleopatra that is rich, rare, racy and decidedly up-to-date. LeChair's female impersonations are genuine works of are, and his appearance as that luscious and seductive Queen of Egypt, who played hob generally with Marc Antony and many others, is a smashing success. No less exoruciatingly funny are Leelle's inimitable burlesques and extravagant monkey-shines, the two of them making up an ideal vaudeville team. Collins and Collins, the natty pair of comedians, follow in their repertoire of songs and parodies, all of which are well rendered, while their dancing is as neat as may be.

Alma Herzog, a new candidate for favor as a prima donna, in the herolo compositions of Wagner, has an excellent method and a voice that shows training as well as quality. The gods in the gallery were inclined to be impatient with "the music of the future," and Stage Manager Bronson read them, at the finish of Miss Herzog's turn, a well-considered lecture, gentlemanly in tone, but most opportunely. He was politic enough to call the habitues of the heaven of the gods "little gentlemen," and having treated them like human beings they will probably be chivalric and kindly enough in future to bear with patience a feature in the bill which is not exactly to their liking. The rightly-termed queen of the lofty wire, Virginia Aragon, repeated her astonishing feats on the slender thread of steel above the heads of the auditors in the parquette and accomplished them all so cleanly and skillfully as to establish anew her standing as an artist. And then Lizzle B. Raymond porceeded to take the town. This young woman is a singer of character songs much after the style of Charles B. Ward, and with much the same style, though with far more personal magnetism: that quality which captures an audience before the performer has said a word. She sings "The Band Payed On;" Henrietta," "On the Benches in the Park," and other ballads of the day

CHRISTIAN HEROISM. Drama Given by the Boys of St

Before the curtain rose on the first act of the drama. William P. Ponet gave an oration on "Christian Heroism." in which the sufferings of the early Chris tlans and their constancy were vividity thans and their constancy were vividly depicted, and the lesson drawn for the benefit of Christians of the present day. The oration served also as a species of prologue for the play, which opened in the catacombe of Rome. Two Christian boys, Sylvanus and Faustinus, the sons of Severus, a Roman senator, come to this burial place of the Christians in the vain endeavor to find the ashes of their mother, who was burned at the stake for avowing her religion in defiance of the edict of Caesar.

James McLafferty and Elmer Booth took the parts of the two young Christians, and sustained them throughout with more than unusual ability. In the catacombs the two lads encounter Publus, the son of Valentius, prefect of Rome, and confide to him their expectation of the immediate return of their pagan father and their dread of this grift and rose when he beared. their pagan rather and their dread of his grieft and rage when he should dis-cover that they belonged to the de-spised sect of Christians. The scene is ended by the entrance of a funeral cortege and the impressive ceremony-of the burial of a bloodstained Chris-

The next scene is in the house of. Severus, who is told the painful particulars of his wife's death by his old freedman, Asterius, and is afterwards greeted with filal affection by his sons, who rush home upon hearing of their father's arrival from Libya. By the time the second act begins Severus has begun to suspect that his oldest son is a Christian at heart and determines to put him to the test. He seizes the opportunity offered by the visit of the prefect, Valentius, who comes to him with news of honors and promotions and commands Sylvanus to assist him in sacrificing to the gods. The boy firmly refuses, and is joined in his refusal by his younger brother, Faustinus. Both lads are cursed by their father in the presence of the prefect, who promises to keep silence on account of his long friendship for Severus. The painful conflict between the father and his sons was given with excellent effect by the young actors, who put much sympathy and feeling into the scene.

Their constancy remaining unshaken, they are sentenced to death and hurried away to prison. In a strong scene between Valentius and Severus, the father encounters the sneers of his enemy in return for his passionate pleadings for the lives of his children, and the triumph of Valentius seems complete.

pleadings for the lives of his children, and the triumph of Valentius seems complete.

In the last act the first scene shows the young martyrs in their prison, loaded with chains. Publius comes to entreat them to save their lives by recantation, but is himself converted to Christianity by the prayers of Sylvanus. The prefect enters and a stormy scene takes place when he learns of the apostasy of his son from the pagan worship to the despised new religion. Publius is taken to the judgment half, tried and condemned by his iron-willed father to share the fats of Sylvanus and Faustinus. It the last scene, Severus deckares that he will share the faith and death of his children, and all four are led to execution.

The play is difficult and the young men deserve great credit for the way in which they presented it. The picturesque Roman costumes were exceedingly effective and made every scene doubly impressive from an artistic point of view.

THE CHOSEN MAN.

Protection to American Industry is the Battle Cry.

It is Resounded by All Men from All Sides.

McKinley Represents Strong, Sturd; American Manhood—He is not an Ephemeral Political-boss

(Santa Cruz Daily Sentinel:) This

(Santa Crus Daily Sentinel:) This is to be the Republican battle cry in the approaching campaign. The immense majority by which he was nominated shows that Mr. McKinley is the popular favorite of the Republican party. Ever since he was elected Governor of Ohio by an almost unprecedented majority, just after what the free-trade Democracy boasted was a national repudiation of the tariff law bearing his name, Mr. McKinley has been the logical Republican candidate for the first place in the nation. That majority was not only Ohio's tribute to him as a man and a statesman, but her enthusiastic indorsement of the or. The union of his name with this bor. The union of his name with this doctrine in the party's history, and the success resulting from such union in Ohio fixed William McKinley in the eyes and hearts of Republicans all over the country, and from that time the indorsement which he has just received at St. Louis has been a foregone conclusion. The Republicans who have heretofore shown such faith in him, will show the same faith by their votes next November.

Man and Platform are One.

Man and Platform are One.

(Oakland, Cal., Tribune:) The great event was the nomination of William McKinley. He has been nominated months in advance by the people. The convention at St. Louis formally ratified the nomination. Unless there is a great revulsion of public opinion the nominee in November will be triumphantly elected. It is not merely the nomination of the man which gives the greatest significance to the event of yesterday. Separated from the platform he would have no more prominence than many other leading men. Standing on the platform, he is today the most interesting character in the country. The man and the platform are one.

the most interesting character in the country. The man and the platform are one.

There are no equivocations and no doubtful expressions admitting of a double interpretation. On the two great leading issues, the country demanded clear-cut statements. These have gone into the formal declaration of principles. The free-silver men and the free traders know just what the platform means. It is broad, liberal and aggressive. It is the reaffirmation of the cardinal principles which have carried the Republican party into power in other days. It was a most eventful day in the history of the country when the man and the platform were formally placed before the people.

Intensely American.

(Oakland Enquirer:) Maj. McKinley represents the sturdy, unpretentious element of this country. Intensely American, he is at the same time an intelligent, broad-minded advocate of the interests of this country, capable of comprehending its relations with the other great nations of the earth with which we sustain close financial and industrial relations and which must always be taken into consideration in our national legislation. His personal character is such as to secure the esteem of all classes, and his nomination was a concession to the demands of the rank and file of the party. At no time has he been the candidate of the politicians who, on the contrary, have lain awake nights devising schemes and combinations to compass his downfall. Intensely American.

Democrats for McKinley. Marysville, Cal. Democrat:) The people have dictated the nomination of William McKinley, and it is the first instance in many years where the politicians and manipulators could not control a convention. It is a victory worthy of note, yet it is not entirely due to the man. True, McKinley is a statesman of more than ordinary ability, a good citisen and a Christian gentleman, but when we hunt for the cause of his popularity it is found in the fact that a protective tariff bore his name. Had the same issues arisen in the years intervening between the close of the war of the rebellion and the advent of the McKinley tariff the same elethe war of the receimon and the savent of the McKinley tariff the same elements of advancement would have fallen upon the honored Senator from Maine, Lott M. Morrill, the author of the Morrill tariff. There are a large number of competent men who have made an honorable record while acting as members of the Republican party, who would fill the office of Fresident with dignity and ability. But today not one stands as prominent in the minds and estimation of the people as does William McKinley.

And if we were asked to give an opinion as to the probable result we would answer frankly and without prejudice, and say, the people who forced his nomination yesterday are competent to sleet him November 3, and we believe they will do it.

His Election Certain.

(Ban Francisco Post:) The nomination of William McKinley for President by the National Republican Convention has been a foregone conclusion for many weeks. Three months ago it was evident to the close observer that he was the choice of the Republican masses, and that unless some extraordinary combination could be effected among the eastern political bosses opposed to him, he would be nominated. The history of parties in this country, indeed, presents no instance of popular selection analogous to his. He is not a military hero, nor a beloved party leader, and yet he generated a boom greater than any man in time of peace has ever done.

That McKinley will be elected seems almost as certain now as his nomination did three months ago. For a while the lamentations of the dissatisfied will fill the air, but as the campaign progresses it will become evident that the popular winning fight. The will of a majority, cannot be overcome. The thing to do is to secure the majority.

The People Can Rely on Him.

(Oakiand Enquirer:) Mr. McKinley's record for integrity and patriotism, just regard for the rights of others, proper conception of the needs of this country and of the relation it bears to others, constitutes a guarantee upon which the American people may rely with confidence. He will choose as his counselors men of like character, and there is every reason to believe that the four years beginning March 4 next will form one of the most important epochs in the nation's history. ople Can Rely (Fresno Republican:) In nominating McKinley the Republican party declared, as of old, that protection is the supreme issue, which must be definitely and finally settled before other issues oan take its place. The coming election will establish protection as a fixed American principle.

Pull Together

vention is over, the standard-bearers selected and a platform adopted. While it is but natural that in a population of over seventy million all could not be entirely satisfied, we believe that all true Republican will lay aside all differences and work together for the ultimate success of the ticket next November.

(Oakland Enquirer:) It will be a clean-cut, vigorous campaign, without any nonsense or misunderstandings. Everybody knows where to find the Epublican party and what it stands for.

(Fresno Republican:) Fresno Repub-licans will demonstrate their loyalty to protection. . . California is prac-tically unanimous for protection.

SAN DIEGO, June 22.—(Regular Corespondence.) Congressman W. V. Bowers says of the St. Louis convetion: "I indorse everything it di with the exception of the gold play in the platform. The convention con no more keep from nominating M Kinley than the country can from electing him. The people are mighty slo but when they get started everythin has to give way. All the politicia were against McKinley, but he went in spite of everything. No power earth will prevent that man from beit President of the United States. T simple fact is that the people a bound to have him, and that settle President of the United States, simple fact is that the people bound to have him, and that se it. in the platform is not according to my wish. But the great majority of the party has decided that it wants gold. I will not boit my party because one plank is not to my liking. The boiters drop out of sight, while the party sains grandly on. The way to accomplish the hopes of free coinage adherents is to work in the party until a majority may be won, as the gold adherents have won this time. But there is no use talking about silver, when a greater issue is before the people. The one great issue is the American policy of protection. McKinley is going in because he represents what the people want-protection to American labor and American manufactures. Look at the gituation now. The House of Representatives, Republican, the Senate controlled by Populists, the President a Democrat. What was the result? Nothing, Absolutely nothing was accomplished. Each can blame the other, and there you are Now there will be a change, and don't you forget it. The whole tree will be Republican root, trunk and branch, and protection will be the fruit that it will bear."

Now the crowds that go to the beaches every Sunday may choose between Santa Monica, Redondo, Terinal Island, Long Beach and Catalina Island. To judge from the success that has attended all these resorts we are likely to see a good many others spring up and compete for the patronage of the public within the next few years.

An eastern genius has patented a jacket for the trunks of orange and lemon trees. It is a felt affair arranged with springs so as to coll tightly about a tree trunk on a frosty night and prevent the utter destruction of the tree. tent the utter destruction of the tree, as weeping a supply of these jackets of rarious sizes, a fruit-grower can easily lothe his orchards. The jackets are probably designed for Florida trade. The "Shylocks" of the city received another severe set-back yesterday, in the suit of a woman for the possession of property and damages for its deten-tion. Occasionally one of these install-ment-plan cases gets into the courts, ment-plan cases gets into the courts, and usually ends in a victory for the purchaser. The Supreme Court of the State refuses to recognize these unjust contracts. and has held that delivery of goods in such cases effects a bona fide sale, and that the property cannot be wrested from purchasers, except through due proposes of law. through due process of law.

Postal officials are a good deal rum-pled up in their minds because of the large traffic in clandestine correspondence that is carried on by the boys and girls of Los Angeles through the me-dium of the general delivery. It is the dium of the general delivery. It is the law that when a person comes to the general delivery window, and asks for the mail of any one individual, it must be delivered to him upon the presumption that he is that individual. This has been taken advantage of by an appalling amount of precoclous youngsters, who assume some convenient alias, and receive all the notes they please. The clerks are aware of this, but powerless to prevent it. It is about time the parents took a hand.

The scheme to conduct a public market, under the auspices of the City Council, will be given a thorough trial by that body. The plat of ground at Ninth and Los Angeles streets has been adopted yesterday. The rental price of the same has been fixed. All that remains apparently to make a success of the affair is the application of the gen-tle granger, for space in the market, at the rates fixed by the municipal solons. As the ordinance governing this market forbids the bartering or sale of pro-duce elsewhere in the city than at the "public" market, the Council would apto have a cinch on the men who deal in the products of the soil.

The Methodist preachers of the city the ordinance which forbids out-of-door preaching on the main streets of the oity. The preachers propose a substi-tute for the ordinance, by making the Mayor a court of appeal, which should decide whether an applicant for a per-mit to conduct a street meeting was a fit mit to conduct a street meeting was a fit person to manage such a service. The preachers further suggest, and this sug-gestion will raise a howl in certain quarters, that only applicants whose petition is indorsed by five of the "lead-ing ministers" of the city, have their petition given favorable consideration. Just how it would be decided what con-stitutes a leading minister, the Metho-dist negachers neglect to state. dist preachers neglect to state.

Judge Van Dyke has handed down an opinion in favor of defendant, in the suit of the Distret Agricultural As-sociation of this county against Charles Bauer, for a balance claimed under an agreement conferring bar privileges. The directorate had no authority to The directorate had no authority to sell liquors without first obtaining a license, and could transfer no authority to others that it did not possess itself. Or, in other words, such authority was contingent upon the acts of those vested with such powers. The illegal sale of liquors for four days, under the express understanding that the defendant would pay $100 fine, also debarred the latter from recovering the amount paid upon the contract or agreement. The court holds that there was collusion between all the parties to this action.

for two weeks, which time expired lest evening.

A big delegation of citizens from the Seventh Ward was present ready to second Grubb's efforts in having the matter pushed to a successful issue. Grubb cited a mass of figures, proving that the state of the school funds warranted the expenditure of money for the purpose, and that the part of the city adjacent to the Seventh-street school needs additional school facilities, worse than any other portion of the city. A motion of Director Grubb's that the Building Committee be authorized to add four or six rooms to the Seventh-street school, as it might see fit, was seconded by Director Pitman and adopted by the board, Director Bassett alone voting "no."

Dr. Wills moved that two lots adjoining the Sand-street school be purchased by the board, and the matter was referred to the Building Committee.

The board adjourned to meet in special session next Monday evening, when the course of music to be used in the schools next year will be considered.

An Honor for the U.S.C. President George W. White of the University of Southern California, in Los Angeles, has been appointed by University of Southern California, in Los Angeles, has been appointed by the board of bishops, as the Pacific Coast representative in the University Senate of the Methodist Episcopal Church. This senate is the highest authority in educational matters in that church. It is composed of fifteen selected educators, and its duties are to determine the minimum requirements in courses of study, upon which the baccalaureate degree may be conferred, thus making the college courses more nearly uniform. No school whose curriculum falls below the standards set by this senate can be recognized or named as a college or university, and these standards are very high. Yet the University of Southern Claifornia more than measures up to them. The work of this senate, although in operation only four years, has been so successful in giving high character to the schools of the church, that the plan has been copled by different States. It is called "The Forward Movement" in education, by some very high educational authorities. Its importance to the church originating it may be seen in the extensive educational interests of that church, which has no less than one hundred and twenty-five institutions of learning in the United States alone, with thirty-five thousand students in attendance last year. Fifty-four of these schools are of college or university grade. It has, besides, seventy-six schools in foreign countries, with ten thousand students in them annually. These schools, altogether, have property valued at more than sixteen millions.

Fourth of July Concerts.

At the meeting of the Fourth of July Executive Committee last night it was decided not to have concerts on the evening of the Fourth at either East Side Park or Hollenbeck Park, but instead to station two bands on Spring street in front of the leading hotels. But there will be concerts at Westlake Park and Central Park. The reason for changing this part of the programme is the fact that there is no moonlight on the night of the Fourth, and it would cost the committee too much to light up the dark parks on the East Side and Boyle Heights. At Westlake and Central parks abundance of light may be had at a nominal expense. The concerts will commence at 8 o'clook and continue till 10 o'clook.

He has to take the scalps of his prey to the City Clerk's office, and there he is paid $1.50 for each pair of ears. As each man who bails out his dog has to pay $2.50, and as $1 goes to the city, and the rest to the dog-catcher, each dog he captures means $1.50 for him. After three days have gone by the dogs become the property of the dog-catcher, and he can kill them, dispose of them at the tamale factories or sell them to fanciers, thereby filling his coffers to overflowing.

The dog-catcher is required to give to the police each day a list of the dogs he has captued. The list talks non-chalantly of such monstrosities as livercolored buildogs, etc.

purpose of such meetings, namely, to reach the non-church-going classes." The resolutions embodied a request that the Council remove the district limitations and that a permit be issued to leaders of street meetings to be signed by the Mayor or by the President of the Council, at the discretion of either official, and that no permit be granted unless the application for the same is indorsed by five pastors of different denominations in the city.

R. A. Stassforth indited the following letter of inquiry to the Council: "I herewith beg to ask you what disposition is made of the salt water pumped from the wells in the oil region? I have been informed that about one hundred barrels of the same are pumped daily. Can it be that the water is drained into the sewer? If so then the slum will soon destroy that section of the sewer system which was a costly article to the city."

This matter was referred to the Sewer Committee.

MR. ROBB'S CHECK.

MR. ROBB'S CHECK.

Many months ago, the Council confiscated a check of W. B. Robb's, who failed to construct a school building, the contract for which had been awarded to him. Robb petitione? for the return of this $1300, which petition was referred to the City Attorney. That official yesterday reported to the Council in the matter as follows:

"In the matter of the petition of W. B. Robb for the return of $1300 forfeited by his failure to enter into a contract to erect certain school buildings, I find that the law under which these buildings were built provides that notice inviting proposals shall be published for ten days before the date on which the bids are opened. I find further that the notice under which Mr. Robb's bid was made was published only nine days, which raises a very serious question as to whether the city could appropriate and forfeit his check under this notice. The other grounds set up in Mr. Robb's petition as reasons why his check should be returned to him, are of no weight whatever. As to whether the insufficient publication of the notice to bidders would entitle the petitioner to a return of his forfeiture, I am unable to determine." The report was ordered referred to the special Committee on School Buildings.

The City Attorney reports on other matters referred to him as follows:

"I also present a quit claim deed in accordance with your instructions and the petition of G. Helmann, trustee, No. 193." Adopted.

"I also present an ordinance granting a right-of-way over certain streets to the Southern California Railway Company, in accordance with your instructions and the petition of said railway company." Referred to the Board of Public Works.

"In the matter of the demands referred to me and drawn in favor of Schreiber, Wales, Charnock and Bittle, your instructions to me do not specify the grounds upon which you ask an opinion and I therefore return the same without recommendation. The demands seem to be equitable claims, but the law makes no provision for their payment. I have no information as to whether the different names are correct." Filed.

"In the matter of the demand of Rudolph Sherer for $10.25, I would advise that the same be allowed." Adopted.

"In the matter of the petition of D. Campbell et al., with reference to Trinity street, I am of the opinion that this street is a public thoroughtare and that the contesting parties should, if they see fit, make their contest in the courts." Filed.

ARGES OF FRAUD.

JULLIEN ALLEGES CONSPIRACY ON THE PART OF THE DAVINS.

artnership Business Has Involved a Large Realty Addition—Julien Says Davin Erected a Private Warehouse—Property or Prison.

Francols Julien has begun suit against Pierre Davin, Jean Davin and J. P. Agoure for an accounting and production of certain partnership property. The appointment of a receiver is further asked. The complainant in this action and Pierre Davin have been engaged in the manufacture and sale of brick in the city of Los Angeles along the beginning of the year 1890.

engaged in the manufacture and saie of brick in the city of Los Angeles since the beginning of the year 1890.

Jullien makes sweeping allegations of fraud and declares that in 1890 the firm, composed of himself and Pierre Davin, was the owner of 2,000,000 bricks, valued at $15,000, and that Davin was largely indebted to him for money advanced to the said firm; that the entire control of the partnership property was left to defendant Pierre Davin; that the said Davin sold the 2,000,000 bricks to McNally & Young, Romain Grand and other persons, as well as a quantity for constructing the sewer on Grand avenue; also that the defendant. Pierre Davin, used upward of 100,000 in the construction of a brick warehouse on Aliso street, for his own private use, and that said Davin realized from the sale of said bricks upward of $15,000. It is further alleged that the said Davin converted and used some of the said moneys in establishing a similar business to the one carried on by his firm, and placed Jean Davin, his brother, at the head of said concern, and that he has carried on the said business in his own name.

At the time of entering into a part-has carried on the said business in his own name.

At the time of entering into a partnership agreement with Pierre Davin, plaintiff alleges there was due J. P. Agoure the sum of about $6000; the further allegation is made that on or about August 2, 1894, the said Pierre Davin had paid the said indebtedness, but induced the plaintiff to believe it had not been paid and caused him, under such representations, to execute a note for $823.75, secured by mortgage upon a large number of lots in the "Plan of Davin & Juillen's subdivision of part of lots 6 and 7, block 73, Hancock's survey," numbering in all about seventy-five lots.

During 1895 plaintiff charges he tried without success to effect a settlement without success to effect a settlement with Pierre Davin.

J. P. Agoure instituted suit on June 11, 1896, to recover the amount due on the note and for foreclosure of the mortgage. This suit is alleged to be in furtherance of the scheme to defraud plaintiff.

In conclusion, Julien asks that an accounting be had and that the amounts found to be due him be declared a lien upon said real estate. If no money or open said real estate. If no money or property acquired by the sale of said partnership property is produced, a judgment of the court is asked impris-oning the defendants Davin until they shall have compiled with the order of this court.

The cause has been set for trial in Judge York's court.

Possession and Dnmages Against Mont-Mrs. Dibble's Victory. Moat-Mrs. Dibble's Victory.

Elijah Moat's greed has brought him financial grief. He deals in horses, buggies and second-hand goods, and has his headquarters on East Second street.

Some time last December he sold a buggy to Mrs. Mary A. Dibble for $30. the purchaser paying $20 in hand and agreeing to liquidate the remainder in mark payments. At the time of securing agreeing to liquidate the remainder in part payments. At the time of securing the buggy, she also leased a single harness at a rental of 25 cents per week.

Mrs. Dibble conducts a small laundry at her home, and owing to sickness was unable to make prompt payments, but this seemed to be a matter of small moment with Elliah until the poor woman had liquidated within 50 cent's of the entire buggy indebtedness. Most secured the services of two men, and they went to Mrs. Dibble's home very early in the morning, and took the buggy away during her absence to a nearby store. When she returned she beheld the disappearing buggy and the men saw her at the same time, and whipping up their horse, soon passed from view.

The buggy was traced to Moat's place of business.

Mrs. Dibble offered to pay him all she owed him on the buggy last March, but he claimed a clause in the agreement permitted him to charge $1 more when he delivered the bill of sale. He when he delivered the bill of sale. He also claimed that $1.75 was due for the use of the harness. Mrs. Dibble told him he had promised to receive remuneration for the harness after the buggy was paid for, but he refused to deal in that manner, and credited payments made on the buggy to the harness rental account.

After taking the buggy away Mrs. Dibble's attorney went to him and offered to pay him every dollar she owned on the buggy and harness, and also a reasonable compensation for his trouble, but his only answer was that he proposed standing by his rights and significantly tapped the contract stowed away in his pocket.

cantly tapped the contract stowed away in his pocket.

Justice Young awarded Mrs. Dibble the custody of the buggy, or, in the event a delivery could not be made, the sum of $30, its probable value; also damages in the further sum of $10.

Moat received a terrible tongue lashing from the poor woman's attorney, and when his own attorney objected, the former commanded him to keep quiet, and added: "If you want satisfaction. I will meet you outside the courtroom in a few minutes, but don't you interrupt me again."

AGRICULTURAL PARK.

Bauer Wins Against District Agricultural Association.

Judge Van Dyke has handed down an opinion in the suit of the District Agricultural Association, No. 6, against Charles Bauer, to recover an elleged balance of $425. The court finds for the defendant for his costs.

The above association leased have balance of $425. The court finds for the defendant for his costs.

The above association leased bar, privileges at Agricultural Park to Charles Bauer for $875; after paying $450, the defendant refused to make further payment, he being unable to secure a liquor license. This action was brought to enforce the payment of the balance of $425.

The defendant set up the fact that he was unable to secure a license from the Board of Supervisors for the reason that there was not time to give the necessary notice of the application. During four days out of the six of the fair week, the authorities permitted him to violate the law by paying a fine of $100.

The court further finds that if the association could not itself conduct or carry on such business, if cannot enter into a contract or authorize or empower others to do it. If cannot do directly. (People vs. Raymond, 36 Cal. 492.)

Finally the court said: "Under the circumstances of this case, I am of the opinion that the plaintiff cannot recover on the so-called bar privilege. Inasmuch as the defendant was a party to carrying on the business of retsiling liquor without a license in violation of law and voluntarily paid the plaintiff the sums stated under the so-called bar privilege, the court will not aid him in recovering the same back on his cross-complaint. (Gridley vs Dorn. 57 Cal. 78.) Judgment will go for the defendant for his costs."

Adjourned Meeting Held Yesterday at Immanuel Church.

Communications from Seceding Westminsters Acted Upon.

mmittees Draw Up Suitable Re-dies—Discussion as to Manner of Conveyance—Pastoral Let-ter to Be Sent.

The presbytery of Los Angeles held an adjourned meeting yesterday after-noon and evening at the Immanuel Church, with Moderator L. F. Laverty in the chair. About one hundred and fifty persons were present, including the ministers and elders.

the ministers and elders.

The first business to receive the attention of the body was the report of the Prosecuting Committee, of the decision of the General Assembly, in the appealed case of the session of the Westminster Church, which was read by Stated Clerk P. D. Young. Rev. Alexander Parker moved that a com spect to the decision. The moderator appointed Revs. Parker, N. H. G. Fife

Mr. Young next read the communi-cation from Mr. Howard, which has already been published, renouncing the jurisdiction of the presbytery and dealready been published, renouncing the jurisdiction of the presbytery and declaring his independence. The letter was addressed to the stated clerk, as the official organ of the presbytery. Upon the motion of Rev. J. H. Stewart, the moderator appointed the following committee to draw up a suitable reply: Revs. J. H. Stewart, R. H. Hartley, Robert Strong, J. M. Coyner and Robert Gage. This committee also withdrew and went to work.

The next communication read was from the congregation of the so-called Westminster Church, upholding the pastor and representatives in the stand they had taken. Upon the motion of Mr. Thomson, the communication was referred to the committee of which Dr. Parker was chalrman.

With these three important items temporarily disposed of, smaller matters were allowed to bob up for consideration. A letter from Rev. W. P. Craig was read, asking that his fidelity as commissioner to the General Assembly be approved, and for a letter of dismissal when he should designate the presbytery, to which he desired to go. The requests were granted.

the Presbyterian fold, took advantage of the six months opportunity for retraction, and in a communication addressed to the presbytery, announced his return to his former love. His name was stricken from the roles.

A letter from Rev. J. Macleod Gardiner was fread, stating his resignation from the pastorate of the Third church on account of ill health. A committee was appointed to convey to him the sympathy of the presbytery. Next came's letter from the church at North Ontario, asking that the presbytery install the Rev. William Huelster as pastor there, proposing to "relieve him of and accepted the call from the moderator.

Rev. H. A. Compton of Inglewood gave the report of the committee appointed by the Ministerial Association on presbyterial extension in Southern California, and recommended the appointment of a committee to divide the presbyteries with a view to forming a synod of Southern California. He also exhibited a very fine and artistically tinted map of the proposed boundaries of the new presbyteries to be thus created, but after a discussion which ambied gently along for some time, Prof. Parkhill moved that the request of Santa Barbara and Ventura counties to be set off in a separate presbytery, be granted, and that the rest of the question be referred to a committee. This was carried, and the chair appointed the committee as follows: Reva. W. J. Chichester, H. B. Gage, P. E. Kipp, Alex. Parker, R. B. Taylor, W. S. Crawford, Daniel Potter and Robert Gage.

When it seemed as if everybody was about to lapse into slumber, item No. 1 was announced to appear, in the shape of a report from Mev. Mr. Stewart's committee, and there was an instant straightening of backs and cocking of ears. Amid a silence that could be heard, Mr. Stewart read the answer to the letter from Mr. Howard, which was as follows:

GREETING TO MR. HOWARD.

GREETING TO MR. HOWARD.

The Presbytery of Los Angeles to Rev. Bert Estas Howard, Greeting—Dear Brother: We hereby acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 18th inst., containing the following statement: "I hereby withdraw from connection with the Presbytery of Los Angeles, resounce its jurisdiction and declare myself independent."

Permit us, in reply, to say kindly that you are evidently laboring under a missoprehension of your present relations to the presbytery. There is no such procedure known, either in our civil or ecclesiastical courts, as will permit or recognise the right of a party under senjence for violation of law, to close the sase, by renouncing the jurisdiction of the court which imposed the sentence. Since you are under suspension a sentence imposed by this presbyteay and reamirmed by the highest court of the church, it lies wholly with the presbytery to determine what your future relation to the Presbyterian church shall be, or by what method it shall terminate.

Hence, if follows that your statement of renunciation of the jurisdiction of the presbytery of Los Angeles and decination of independence therefrom in no way releases you from its authority nor produce that ecclesiastical independence which you seem to desfreineither can the presbytery fixelf give you as honorable release until you regain an honorable standing on its roll.

In the spirit of Christ we would,

Y. we herewith transmit to you a copy of the action of the said general assembly on the case of the session of the Westminster Church, brought before that body on appeal from the decision of the Synod of California. We earnestly ask your careful and prayerful consideration of this action, and sincerely desire and hope that you may see your way clear—to reconsider the position you have heretofore assumed in regard to the former action of the presbytery, and assure you that in case of your acceeding to this decision and adopting the course therein indicated, it will give the presbytery great pleasure to conform its course to the aforesaid zecommendation of the assembly. You are requested to send answer to the stated clerk before July 6."

WILL AWAIT AN ANSWER.

The last item, the paper drawn up in reply to the communication from the Westminsters, was read as follows: "In reference to a communication from the Westminster Church, conveying to the presbytery the action of the congregation at its meeting held June 17. and referred to this committee, we recommend the following: That no action be taken at present, awaiting the answer of Mr. Howard and the members of the former session of the Westminster Church, meanwhile, however, calling their attention to the fact that a church has no constitutional right to withdraw from a presbytery without its consent. See Moor's Digest, section 46. page 172."

The reading of these two papers precipitated a heated discussion, in which some of the brethren breathed of brotherly love, and proposed that the letters should be taken by a committee which would throw its arms about the seceders and compel them through the force of their affection to return to the fold. Some thought that the letters were couched in too cold a language, that the presbytery was not carrying out the spirit of kindliness recommended by the general assembly. Dr. Parker said that there was no intention of unkindness or harshness in the letters, and though that they should not be sent as cold letters, but in loving hands from loving hearts. This evidently met with the approval of a large majority, and Elder Bakewell took advantage of the moment and proposed that presbytery return to them their name of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Young declared that until they were conceded the right to the $51,000, nothing could be done with them, nor could they be touched. Dr. Chichester said that presbytery had received the communication addressed to the Westminster. He declared himself in favor of personality being thrown into the matter, and that the communication be carried by some of the brethren.

Mr. Young said that that church must be saved that that thrown into the matter, and that the communication be carried by some of the brethren.

Mr. Young said that that church must be saved that he believed that most of the 1500 people connected with it were utterly misinformed of the actions of presbytery, and if the real facts could be presented to them, he believed the larger part of them would follow the presbytery. Mr. Hartlay brought the speakers up with a round turn by the anneuncement that he thought presbytery was forgetting what stage had been reached in the proceedings, and that it was there to accept or reject the papers which were neither cold nor unkind. The papers were adopted unanimously without further discussion.

Rev. Robert Strong thought a pastoral letter should be addressed to the Westminster-church, in such a way as to reach the people, and they might be touched.

This idea of the pastoral letter touched.

This idea of the pastoral letter seemed to meet with much approbation, and Revs. P. E. Kipp, Robert Strong and H. B. Gage were appointed to draw up the letter. The presbytery adjourned at 6 o'clock to partake of refreshments provided by the ladies of the church.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session was opened at 7:45, with a continuation of the discussion as to whether a committee should carry the letters in person to the session and church. There was so much uncertainty as to how the committee could satisfactorily represent all the divergent views of presbytery, that Dr. Parker was given leave to withdrawn. Parker was given leave to withdraw Parker was given leave to withdraw his motion regarding the appointment of the committee, and Mr. Henderson moved that the stated clerk convey the papers. After much discussion it re-suited that it was left to the stated, clerk to send the letters officially, minus, the addition of special expressions of brotherly love.

clerk to send the letters officially, minus, the addition of special expressions of brotherly love.

The Pastoral Letter Committee then drew the attention of the congregation by flunking with wonderful unanimity, and asking leave to withdraw. Rev. Mr. Kipp criticised the spirit of presbytery, saying that it seemed to him as if the action of presbytery was designed that all overtures should fail. Mr. Stewart instantly rebuked the speaker, deprecating speeches of such a character, and declaring that there had been only the spirit of brotherly love all through the trial, and that if Mr. Kipp had been present at it, he would know better what he was talking about; that he was hurt to the heart that the motives of presbytery had been impugned, and that such speeches hurt the brethren and the body of Christ in the presbytery. Mr. Stewart was in favor of the pastoral letter, but thought the committee not a proper one to prepare the letter. The committee was given permission to withdraw, and to quash the discussion that was rising, Mr. Henderson interjected a motion to adjourn, which was lost. The chair then appointed as the committee to draw up the pastoral letter and bring it before the next meeting: Revs. J. H. Stewart, W. L. Johnson, W. S. Crawford, P. E. Kipp, H. B. Gage and Robert Strong.

Dr. Chichester said that the trustees felt some timidity about going on because of the 1800 deficit, and some of them were besides on a note for 12700. He moved that the committee be continued to report at the next meeting. The presbytery adjourned at 3 o'clock to meet at the same place July 5, at 10 a.m.

LOOKING FOR DUNHAM.

SHERIFF BURR AND POSSE ARE IN THE WILDS.

epared for Any Emergency They Will Seek the Red-handed Mur-derer—He is Probably Striking for the East—A Montana Rumor

It is not likely that any definite news about the progress of Sheriff Burr and his posse of officers, who are on the trail of Dunham, the murderer, will be received for a day or so. The party, including The Times reporter, departed from Callente Sunday morning fully equipped for the expedition, the first stage of which was to be a drive of forty-five miles to the little village of

The intention was to start from Havllah on horseback for the spot where Dunham was seen by his old acquaintance, Frank Pinney, and then follow whatever trail could be discovered. That country is extremely rough, sparcely settled and affords many good hiding places for fugitives.

If Dunham crosses the Sierra Nevadas toward which his trail seemed to lead he will find himself dangerously mear a desert country that will afford him secluded retreats, but little or no means of sustenance. It is quite probable that he will turn southward before reaching the mountains and endeavor to reach some station on the Atlantic and Pacific road between Mojave and Barstow hoping to escape thence by train.

All who The intention was to start from Hav-and Barstow hoping to escape thence by train.

All who are familiar with the country where the man was seen agree that the stands a poor show of escaping, if closely pursued, for he will find no sustenance.

That he will make a desparate resistance if hard pressed is taken for granted by the pursuing officers, who are prepared to take all the chances.

The identification of Dunham by his acquaintance, Pinney, seems so crimplete that there is little likinhood of the posse being on the wrong seen and until some definite news is obtained the reports of the fleeing criminal being seen in other distant points must be discredited.

Much Excitement Over a Little Fire.

The shacks which stood on the southeast corner of Third and Spring streets have been torn down in order to provide for the excavation for a new block. One little group of buildings in the middle of the lot has been left as a shelter for tools. At midnight last night it burst into a blaze. Some one, with the key which hangs in the Third-street enginehouse, opened box No. 47 at the corner of Third and Main streets and turned in an alarm. Then he hurried off without waiting to direct the engines.

Out rushed the men of the Third-street engine-house and without taking their engine out of the place they went to work and in ten minutes had the first out. HOT-WEATHER SESSION.

ASADENA CITY COUNCIL ACTED ON VARIOUS MATTERS.

Again—Salvation Army Asked for Privileges — Protesting Against Assessment — The Sewer Farm Superintendent's Horse.

The meeting of the City Council his afternoon was a typical hot-weather session, and litle business was transacted. Mr. Mann, of the firm of Mann & Daniels, appeared, to ask that further action on the petition of the firm be deferred for a few days, and this was granted. Capt. Findlay of the firm be deferred for a few days, and this was granted. Capt. Findlay of the Salvation Army appeared, and sald that the army desired that the Council grant the liberties which the army wanted, but not definitely stating what those liberties were, it was suggested that the petition which was presented to the business men and signed by them, asking that the army be granted such "use of the street as would not interfere with the rights of the public," be so amended in its wording by Capt. Findlay that the Council would know exactly what was wanted, as the language was vague, and there really was nothing in it upon which the Trustees could take action. Mr. Findlay stated that he was ready to tell what he wanted, but the Council suggested that he put it in writing.

The ordinance formally changing the grade of East Colorado street came before the board for action, and the third reading was declared and the ordinance was declared passed. The report of the Auditing and Finance Committee showed the city indebted for expenses of the sewer farm to the amount of $258.76, which was ordered expenses of the sewer farm to the amount of $269.76, which was ordered paid.

Robert S. Allen presented a petition that he be permitted to make a sewer connection with the city system at the corner of Center street and Euclid avenue. The matter was decided that in case he desired to pay the frontage rate for the placing of a part of a main he could do so, and the Street Superintendent, the chairman of the Street and Alley Committee and the City Attorney were appointed a committee for conference with him.

S. Rosenberger's protest against the payment of an assessment for the widening of Hudson avenue, for which a bill amounting to $112.50 had been sent to him, and the protest of property-owners representing more than three thousand feet of frontage on the same street to paying for the improving of a strip of land which they claim was dedicated for a street nine years ago, was also presented, and a hearing was set for the case Monday, June 29, at 2 o'clock. The same action was taken on the protest of property-owners on the assessment of costs for the extension of Benedict Count. This latter protest alleges that at the time the commissioners for the assessment of benefits and damages on that work were appointed the city had not yet secured jurisdiction in the matter, and further that the report does not show the authority of the alleged commissioners. The document sets forth the allegation that the assessment of the benefits and damages is unjust and inequitable and that one of the commissioners at the date of the signing of the report was, and is now, a member of the City Council.

inequitable and that one or the commissioners at the date of the signing of the report was, and is now, a member of the City Council.

The board decided that it could not legally grant the request of President Hartwell to allow Trustee Washburn, the superintendent of the sewer farm, feed for his horse, but that it could reimburse Mr. Washburn for any expense to which he was placed in visiting the farm and discharging the duties of his position as superintendent. Edgar S. Barry was appointed deputy poundmaster, to serve without pay, in accordance with the written suggestion of the City Marshal.

His subject was: "What Has Religion to do With Education," and he dwelt upon the ends of education as attained in religion, and the true alm of every earnest soul to fulfill the place in life attained by the individual. The platform was beautifully decorated in palms, white roses and coreopsis, and beside the regular choral service of the church, Miss Eaton sang "The Holy City."

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,

Los Angeles, June 22, 1896.

AN AMBITIOUS CORPORATION. The Investor has the following in regard to a new loan company incorporated under the laws of the State as the 'International Loan and Trust Company,' the president of which is Chauncey K. Neale. The concern has not yet satisfied the State officials as to the legality of its business, and consequently has not commenced active operations:

"Meanwhile, from a circular which is being distributed by the company, we have attempted to gather some information as to the character of the business proposed to be conducted, and find it to be of a somewhat extraordinary kind. The circular starts with the modest statement that the company's plan contains the most desirable features afforded by banks, loan and trust companies, investment societies, building loan associations, endowment, and tontine insurance companies, etc.; that it avoids all the objectionable features contained in such organizations and affords many advantages not contained in any of them. After expatiating with much verbosity under this head, the first half of the new system is revealed, which is, in effect, that if a person will pay to the company the sum of 31 per month, in consecutive monthly payments, for the term of twenty years, the company in $1000 subject to a number of provisos, the most important of which is, that if he should default, in any single payment, the whole amount paid in shall be forfeited to the company. It is also provided that of the moneys so paid in, 40 cents of each dollar shall be apportioned to the loan fund, 20 cents to the reserve fund, and the remaining 40 cents to the 'contingent fund,' presumably to pay expenses. The benevolent object of the company is to make 'loans' from the loan and reserve fund as it accumulates. In ordinary business, when a person desires to borrow money he has an accurate idea of the amount paid in the circular. Thus, an applicant for a 'loan' has a chance of beings awarded $5 or $16. While either one of these sums would not be sufficient to bu impuent scheme ever attempted in this community, to float a lottery in defiance of law.

"The manager of the affair refers with great emphasis to his legal advisers, a prominent firm of attorneys of this city, who, in their turn, express their confidence that the device above outlined has been so constructed as to keep on the windy side of the law. At the same time one significant feature of the circular, plainly showing a guilty intention, is the instruction, several times repeated, that all remittances must be made by express, express order or draft sent by express. This avoidance of Uncle Sam's mail facilities will prove futile, as the promoters and their attorneys ought to know, seeing that the express companies are now inhibited from carrying lottery matter, and to employ them for that purpose is as great an offense as to use the mails in the same way. We trust that the Augus-eyed Federal officers who have been diligent in other cases of the kind, will have a tender care for the interests of the public in the matter of the International Loan and Trust Company and the sol-disant Mr. Neale."

borers to the proprietors at the rate of 25 cents a day. Should this movement spread, there is certain to be an upris-ing among the working classes of Europe against Chinese labor, which may cast the California agitation of sandlot days into the shade.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

PLENTY OF WATER. Old-timers have been astonished during the past year or two at the evidences of a vast have been asionished during the past year or two at the evidences of a vast underground supply of water in Southern California that have come to hand from many sections. While boring for oil in the neighborhood of Los Angeles, water was frequently struck at a moderate depth in places where it would not have been considered reasonable to find any.

One of the most important strikes of this description, although not made while boring for oil. is in the San Gabriel Valley, in the neighborhood of El Monte, where J. S. Killian, who owns about 400 acres of land. sunk a twelveinch well, and at a depth of 105 feet struck an immense body of water, which rose within forty feet of the surface. Mr. Killian sunk three other wells, and by means of pumps worked by a sixty-horse-power engine he now has a flow of 260 inches of clear, coid water. As water is worth in this section not less than $1500 a miner's inch, it will be seen that Mr. Killian has a moderate fortune in his wells. He is already talking of sinking more wells, putting in a big pump, and supplying Los Angeles. In any case the strike is a very important one, as it shows that we are still in the dark as to the amount of water that ites under the surface in Southern California. El Monte is one of the oldest-settled places in the county, and it might have been supposed that the settlers would have been well informed in regard to the water supply, but the fact is that very few wells have been sunk in this section to a considerable depth. It has generally been possible to obtain surface water at a depth of from 20 to 40 feet. and few people have thought about going further.

To judge from the immense flow of water that is found at the Bouton wells.

CALIFORNIA MINING MILLION-AIRES. The Argonaut recently pub-lished a couple of interesting articles showing how large a proportion of the great estates accumulated in San Francisco during the past twenty-five years have come from mining. The writer shows that of $175,000 left by fitty-three millionaires to their heirs beween 1871 and 1893 a large proportion of the amount had been derived from the mining industry.

The recent revival of interest in gold mining throughout the State is one of the most encouraging things that has happened to California for the past quarter of a century. Mines that have been regarded as worked out are now being developed at a good profit, this being made possible by the great improvement in methods of mining and reduction that has taken place during the past ten years, so that ore which was thrown over the dump in 1886 may now be worked at a profit.

The mining industry is one that deserves all possible encouragement on part of the State. It is especially valuable to California, because the main industry of this State is horticulture, with which the mines do not enter into competition. On the contrary, a mining community furnishes a large cash market for the produces nothing but the buillion that is shipped. Miners spend money freely and a general revival of the mining industry throughout the State would mean good times all along the line.

TO SUPPRESS TRUSTS. The New

vival of the mining industry throughout the State would mean good times all along the line.

TO SUPPRESS TRUSTS. The New York Legislature has passed some radical legislation of late. Among other noteworthy laws that have been enacted recently is one for the suppression of monopolies in the restriction of trade. The act amending the anti-trust law, which recently passed the Legislature, has been approved by the Governor, and the Attorney-General of New York has now at his command the means of dealing in most vigorous fashion with trusts. The act which has now become a law empowers the Attorney-General to bring action in behalf of the people and in the name of the State against any corporation, foreign or domestic, to restrain it from carrying out in New York any contract, agreement or combination formed for the purpose of preventing competition in the supply or price of any article in common use. The powers of the Attorney-General are also expanded in the direction of collecting evidence. The law enables him to follow even into the books, of a foreign corporation an inquiry as to the character of an organization and its business methods. The determination of the question as to whether or not the business methods. The determination of the question as to whether or not the business of a company and its methods are obnoxious to the laws of a State must naturally be a matter of evidence.

The Financial Review, referring to this new law, has the following to say: "The importance of a law which will enable the prosecuting officials to obtain the evidence they desire is apparent. The law which has been passed gives power to summon witnesses and to require them to produce on examination all books, papers and documents in their possession or under their control, relating to the subject of examination, Refusal to appear or testify, or to answer any proper or pertinent question, is made, by this law, contempt, for which the offender is hisble to be summoned to answer before a justice of the Supreme Court. New York is takin rought sent by express, express order or draft sent by express. This avoidance of Uncle Sam's mail facilities will prove futile, as the promoters and their attorneys ought to know, seeing that the express companies are now inhibited from carrying lottery matter, and to employ them for that purpose is as great an offense as to use the mails in the same way. We trust that the beam diligent in other cases of the kind with castor oil. This kind of oil is obtained from the seed of the castor beam plant, which grows lux-finally in Southern Qalifornia:

The railway trains of India are lighted with castor oil. This kind of oil is obtained from the seed of the castor beam, which belongs to a family that comprises more than twenty species of oil-producing plants. The beam is a native of India, though cultivated in many parts of the world. In Persia its oil is widely used for lighting. There the seed is crushed together with raw cotton until the oil is squeezed out of it. The cotton, thus sold, it is proposed to bring over from Japan some expert shoemakers, who will invest their labor as well as their capital in the enterprise, which is to be run on the coperative plan. It is evident that the question of Japanese competition in various forms is destined to play as prominent a part on this Coast during the next few years as Chinese competition of Japanese competition in various forms is destined to play as prominent a part on this coast during the next few years as Chinese competition of the coastor way stations of castor oil. In cold climates the castor bean is an annual plant, dying down on the approach of winter; in Florida and other warm countries it is perennial, attaining a height of thirty feet and a girth as great as that of a man's body."

Shares and Money. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

NEW YORK, June 22.—A variety of influences contributed to bring about a lower range of share prices today. Although nothing tangible was evolved out of the mass of rumors that obtained circulation in relation to the Cuban situation, enough uneasiness was created on this point and regarding other foreign political compileations, to start a brisk seiling movement all along the line. Local considerations of a depressing character were also in evidence. The engagement of $750,000 in gold for shipment to Germany came in the light of a displessing surprise, and in the boardroom rumors were current of impending action by the President upon the Cuban queston, based on alleged dispatches from the special report of the United States agent now in that country. The pressure at the outwas a coincident with a display of firmness in the railway shares, due partly to moderate purchases. For the foreign account, although the London prices for Americans had shown sharp declines from Saturday's closing figures. The pressure against Sugar was heavy after midday and the stock reacted 3% per cent. 50 18%, under large offerings of long stock. Induced by a collapse in European beet and other sugars, which in turn led to sharp reductions in the refined grades of the domestic produce. CHICAGO, June 2.—The wheat market did not exhibit any particular life in activity; in fact, it was inclined to duliness at times. The range for the day was 16714c. Operations were chiefly local and the orders apparently were rather bearish in their views from the start. Prices were influenced at the siart by the heavy arrivals in the Northwest and New York advices that the world's shipments would be heavier, private reports making the same 9,200,000 bushels. Withdrawals form stores were light and early prospects of a decrease in the visible was disappointing and had more or less influence. Commission houses had selling orders and there ewas more liquidation of July, the spread between that future and September videning to 1½. Private advices put the Black Sea shipments to 5,022,000 bushels. The market had a fair raily on the posting of passage figures, the same showing a heavy decrease of 3,200,000 bushels and proved quite a surprise. The same was accounted for in a measure by the liberal importations of late by Italy. Another stimulating feature was a comparatively steady tone of cables, early public advices quoting Liverpool steady and unchanged and private cables stating that the market was a turn dearer, with holders more confident. Corn was quiet. After the opening weakness, which was caused principally by sympainy with wheat prices, it held comparatively steady. Later, however, when the large estimated receipts for tomorrow were posted, the prices suffered a further decline. Osta-Business was fairly active and values were lower all around. There was quite a selling pressure apparent and that, with the weakness of wheat and corn, was the cause for the decline. Provisions suffered from the surprisingly large run of hogs. Prices recovered somewhat later on the small estimates for tomorrow, but the leading tutures closed as follows:

London Financial Market.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegrams says the stock markets were fist today and closed near the worst. The depressing influences were political, 4 Cabinet council was suddenly called today, and this fact, with Leyda's message on Saturday from the Transvasi government, has set all sorts of rumors afloat. The depression is probably a mere spasm, but for the mount of the stock fixed and the Should anything adverse politically occur, which is unlikely. The Stock Exchange is in a good condition to the Stock Exchange is in a good condition to the Stock Exchange is in a good condition to meet it, for, although the prices are high, the buil account is small. Americans were weak, and on the approach of the sottlement they closed a fraction above the lowest. The silver market was mainly strengthened by the definite announcement of an India 3 per cent. rupee loan to be issued.

PROSPECTIVE BEET-SUGAR FAC TORY IN CONTEMPLATION.

Preparing to Go to San Bernas dino-Berdugo Evidence All In They Used Bad Language-News

SANTA ANA, June 22.—(Regular Correspondence.) As intimated in The Times yesterday, something of interest to sugar-beet farmers generally in Orange county was likely to crop out most any time. It now transpires upon what seem to be good authority that, with the disorganization of the Anahelm Cooperative Beet Sugar Company, which is expected in the course of a which is expected in the course of a few weeks, a meeting having already been called of the stockholders for that purpose, will come a substantial proposition from a New York syndicate to build a factory on the western border of the county on the banks of Coyote Creek, which channel will afford ample drainage for the factory to the ocean. From persons who are in a position to know what is being done it is learned that the New York capitalists require a subsidy of 1000 acres of land and it is authoritatively stated now that the Birdy's have already donated 600 of the 1000 acres and that smaller property-owners on the Orange county side of the line have already donated all but forty acres of the remaining 400 to be secured. The present site for the factory has been selected on section 19, township 4 south, range west. This is an excellent surgar-beet locality and is not far from the present center of the big Anaheim beet fields.

It is stated that the deeds for the

It is stated that the deeds for the land must pass to the New York capitalists by July 15, and by the 1st of August it is expected that the building of the factory itself will be started. Thus it is quite probable that with the dawning of a prosperous Republican administration Orange county may yet get a large sugar-beet factory within her borders.

WILL GO TO SAN BERNARDINO. Co. L. N.G.C., has decided to go to San Bernardino to participate in the fourth of July festivities and perhaps the company will enter a few of its most speedy bleycle riders in the five-mile relay bleycle race at Riverside. The young men of Co. L remember how well they were treated before when they were the guests of San Bernardino residents and they are consequently now anticipating some royal fun on their next trip.

The article was widely copied. Receiver Spoor was seen today and questioned about the matter. He denies that any water is running to waste, and considers it absurd that such a statement should be made in a year when water is not overplentiful. He says the water rate under the irrigation district was il cents, but the district tax carried the expense to more than 35 cents; that now the Bear Valley Company delivers the water to the consumers and bears all the waste of water, which was not the case under the irrigation district; that under the ill-cent rate the company had always the irrigation district; that under the li-cent rate the company had always lost money and the 35-cent rate is neccessary to cover the expense of delivering water. He considers it probable that alfalfa growers have let their crops die, and admits the impracticability of growing alfalfa under an expensive system of irrigation. He thinks it possible that some orchardists neglect their trees because they have not the money to pay for water, for which cash is required in advance, but says no business firm can sell goods below cost because people cannot afford to buy. He says the present rates will continue until Judge Ross fixes a rate or a decision is reached County Makes an Appropriation for a Rabbit Drive at Rialto. SAN BERNARDINO, June 22.—(Regular Correspondence.) If they don't have lots of fun on the Rialto tract Saturday, it will be strange. The Supervisors have appropriated $40 for the purchase of ammunition for a rabbit drive, and a hundred or more men will form in line, each with a gun. Thus, under the leadership of James Mack, they will march in platoons across a tract a half-mile wide and five miles long, and shoot as many as possible of the thousands of rabbits which are doing a great deal of mischief. No dogs or small boys will be allowed in the line of march. Operations will begin at Rialto, the force moving due south to the Santa Ang River.

SAN PEDRO.

SAN PEDRO, June 22.—(Regular Cor-respondence.) The Board of Trustees has taken the first step in the direction of breaking the monopoly enjoyed by the Southern Pacific Company in the matter of wharfage charges. At the matter of wharfage charges. At the meeting of the board Thursday even ing, Trustee Hill moved that the City Attorney be directed to report to the board the necessary proceedings to be taken for condemning rights-of-way so as to extend First street and Fifth street each to the waterfront. The

The ownership by the city of The ownership by the city of the rights-of-way proposed is regarded as very important, as has heretofore been pointed out in The Times. Under the present conditions the Southern Pacific charges for wharfage for loading barley on vessels other than those of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company a rate of $2.50 per ton. Yet the freight rate on barley from here to San Francisco by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company a vessels is $2.50 per ton. In rate of $2.50 per ton. Yet the freight rate on barley from here to San Francisco by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's vessels is $2.50 per ton, including wharfage. This leaves the aituation so that shippers cannot use steam schooners or any others of the lumber vessels which bring lumber from northern coast points and usually have to take on ballast to return with. These vessels could easily carry freight at a low price when going north, but for the fact the Southern Pacific imposes a "cinch" on the loading. If the Southern Pacific of the same as for both wharfage and freight by a Pacific Coast steamer. If one of the lumber companies wharves be used for loading then the railroad company can make it very uncomfortable for the offending lumber dealers.

If the city can obtain right-of-way to the waterfront as proposed it is believed the discrimination now practiced can be effectually blocked so that shippers may send freight by any vessel they please without rendering tribute to the Southern Pacific for the privilege. Notwithstanding the fact the company makes this prohibitive charge for wharfage it uses the wharf but very little and has well-nigh abandoned it. There is another advantage which it is hoped to gain by the proposed condemnation, and that is competition on freight rates to Los Angeles. At present to get freight from the town proper to the Terminal Railway it is necessary to take it in small boats under the Southern Pacific wharf or else go a long distance to get around. With the proposed city ownership of frontage the Terminal, it is argued, can be readily reached and the Southern Pacific, it is insisted, will not have its own way on freight traffic between here and, Los Angeles.

It is expected it will be a week or more from now before the City Attor-freight trame between here and, Los Angeles.

It is expected it will be a week or more from now before the City Attorney will have his report in the matter ready to present. When the report is presented it is announced to be the purpose to employ eminent counsel to conduct the case. As there is but little money at present in the city treasury it is said the necessary funds for the suit will be furnished by property-owners and citizens who regard the issue as highly important to the commercial welfare of the town.

FIRE PANIC AVERTED.

What might have been a fatal catastrophe was averted by a remarkably cool-headed plan Saturday evening. The closing exercises of the public school were in progress at Swinford's Hall, which is in a second story room. Shortly after 9 o'clock, and before the programme was completed, someone outside learned of the fire at Mr. White's home.

It was seen that with the hall crowded as it was to its fullest capacity and with the children on account of the exercises, most of them separated from their parents, an unexpected fire alarm might create an awful panic. Determined to prevent such a catastrophe if possible Carl Stromsen arranged to have a slight delay before ringing the fire bell. This done, he quickly informed Principal Connor of the situation, and asked him to announce that an alarm was about to be sounded. Principal Connor accordingly informed the audience that a fire alarm was about to be heard, and assured the people there was absolutely no danger, as the fire was on Barton Hill. remote from the hall. Scarcely had he finished speaking when the fire bell rang. Even then there was an undue rush to get out of doors, but, as far as known, no one was hurt. It is estimated there were 500 people in the hall, nearly one hundred of them children.

Charges Preferred Against School Superintendent. School Superintendent.

POMONA, June 22.—(Regular Correspondence.) The forthcoming meeting of the Board of Education as a court of hearing in the High-school building Tuesday evening is one of the principal topics of conversation by both the friends and accusers of Superintendent Molyneaux, and there will be a large attendance to see whether the charges against him are sustained or refuted. His accusers, Oliver Young, C. B. Mesattendance to see whether the charges against him are sustained or refuted. His accusers, Oliver Young, C. B. Messenger, J. E. Crawford, Clarence H. Lee and George W. Ogle, bring a great array of charges against him, including unprofessional conduct toward teachers; possessing "a low standard of truthfulness" amounting to perjury in making out sworn reports; use of alcoholic beverages and narcotics; physical disabilities and various other counts. Besides the teachers mentioned in these columns heretofore as refusing to put in applications for next year, it is said that two, if not more, of those who did apply at the last meeting of the board, have withdrawn theirs.

City Recorder Oliver Youngs states that his daughter, at the advise of two physicians, and with the consent of her parents, on account of delicate health, had to drop one of the five studies in the tenth-year grade, selecting geometry as the one to be omitted. She was told that before she could enter the eleventh-year grade, the study must be pursued this summer, so as to be able to commence with the same at the point taken up in this year, and continue to pursue the same. The judge says he cares nothing for a diploma, and that has consulted lawyers and he will see whether or not his daughter is ejected from the public school (which he thinks is by the people, for the people,) at the beginning of the fall term. The fact is, the thing is pretty warm, and as the superintendent said at the last meeting he was ready and willing to answer all charges—and these are now specifically made and enumerated—the chances are it will grow "hot" on Tuesday evening, for both sides have their goodly number of followers. In the mean time public opinion is against the compulsory requirement of a certain course of study in the three High-school years.

VENTURA COUNTY.

THE HIGH SCHOOL SITE FINALLY DETERMINED UPON.

Districts Won by a Clear Major-ity Over All Voted For-Elabor-ate Preparations for the Fourth.

VENTURA. June 22.-(Regular Cor respondence.) The agony is over, and the High School site has been adopted by a clear majority of the 178 votes cast for the four sites finally voted upon. The meeting to determine on a site by ballot, which was called for Monday, June 21, was held in the Plaza school, June 21, was held in the Plaza school, and resulted in the gathering of the owners of the twenty sites offered. After general discussion this number was reduced to eight sites. The merits and demerits (principally the latter) of the remaining eight, were freely and fully discussed by the owners, their attempts, and the publicationers. On the remaining eight, were freely and fully discussed by the owners, their attorneys, and the public-at-large. On motion of banker and president of the Board of High School Trustees the eight was reduced to four, and balloting on the four, known as the Cole, Spear, Kaiser and Wilde "offers," began. As the Union High School district includes the town of San Buena Ventura, Avenue and Mound districts, the interest was intense. The fight for site finally resolved itself into a contest between the Town and Avenue districts on the one side, and the Eastern Addition and Mound districts on the other. The line was closely drawn, log-rolling was freely indulged in by both factions, but the best politicians were on the Mound end and they won, hands down, on the first ballot. The result of the vote was as follows: The Cole offer won by a clean majority over the other three offers, with a vote of 96; Spears offer of 400 feet frontage on Santa Clara street, in the heart of the city, for $5000, came next with $5 votes; Kaiser's offer of £400, last, with 2 votes. This result places the new High School within a short distance of the cemetery in the Eastern Addition. The description of the lot is as follows: Four hundred feet facing north on East Main street, 200 feet facing north on East Main street, 200 feet facing north on East Main street, 201 feet facing south on Santa Clara street. As $5000 was voted for the purchase of a street the tenter of the contract of ing north on East Main street, 200 feet facing south on Santa Clara street. As $5000 was voted for the purchase of a site, the trustees will have $750 left to apply on the foundation. It is contemplated that the new building will be completed in time for the fall session. Considerable feeling is manifested by the partisans of the rejected sites, as the school will be at the extreme eastern end of the city, and on an elevation some hundreds of feet above the Pollstreet school, which has been objected to because of its high altitude. The trustees are the only ones, outside of the Mound and Eastern Addition, who are thoroughly satisfied, as the matter of selection is now taken out of their take in a large slice of new territory hitherto uncovered by the mail-carriers in their daily rounds. A strong effort will be made, not only to retain permanently the three extra carriers now employed as a temporary convenience, but to add still more men to the force, which not even the best management can make sufficient for the needs of the city. The inspector reports the general condition of the post-office and the carriers service as being excellent, in spite of the many difficulties under which the officials labor.

The new territory included in the free-delivery system is in the region of Westlake Park. out between the present limits of free delivery on Figueroa, Hope and Flower streets, and down in the region of the river, five districts in all. District No. 30 is extended over new territory from Jefferson street to the Southern Pacific Rallroad track, on Del Monte, Hope and Flower streets. District No. 37 extends the system on Bonnie Brae street for another block, and carries free delivery out to Alvarado street, on Third and Fourth streets, out on Alvarado and Providence streets, and on Burlington street to Union avenue. In District No. 21 the new territory is bounded by Twelfth, Tennessee, Eighth and Alameda streets, and is also extended on Seventh and Decatur streets to the river, including a block on Mesquite street. In District No. 24 Shlesinger street and the 1000 block on Yale street are added, and nearly all the rest of the territory will be given two deliveries daily. prilliant speakers in the city, was taken to the County Jail last night, with unbalanced mind. There is grave fear he is suffering from inflammation of the brain and that his condition is hopeless. Gen. Campbell lost his wife some months ago. His son had dled before that and he brooded greatly over this double bereavement. For some days he has seemed not himself. Yesterday his condition grew serious. Dr. G. W. Campbell was with him all day, giving him medicines, binding wet cloths on his head and doing everything possible to relieve him. Toward evening he seemed to grow better. Dr. Campbell went out to get some dinner and when he returned he found his patient had grown suddenly worse. Gen. Campbell insisted upon going out on the street. There he became violent, threatened inoffensive passers-by and grew almost uncontrollable. Seeing it would be impossible to care for him at his home, Gen. Campbell's friends took him to the County Jail and there he spent the night. In his lucuid intervals he was greatly worried lest people should think his trouble the result of strong drink, for he has not touched a drop of liquor for months.

The Adventures of a Feeble-minded

Boy. Yesterday afternoon one of the crev Yesterday afternoon one of the crew of a Second-street electric car entered the Police Station and said a nearly grown boy was in his car, who was crying bitterly, and seemed utterly devoid of intelligence. The boy was taken into the station and it was found he was of feeble mind, and unable to tell much about himself. He was put in the jail, and then he began to laugh and smile. It transpired that he was Walter Stevenson of No. 533 Temple street. He has been an idiot for years. His friends came for him and explained that his mother had intended to take him to Redondo to stay for a while, in the hope that sea air would benefit his mental and physical health. His friends gave him 50 cents and a piece of paper on which was written, "Give me a ticket to Redondo," and expected he would find his way there alone. The unfortunate boy was taken down to Redondo last evening.

What Cash Buying Has Accomplished.

Can Be Retailed at a Profit at Less Tha the Cost of Labor. Prices Mentioned.

Manufacturers and jobbers of shess are frantically falling over each other in an endeavor to unload surplus stocks at any price. Cash buys goods at any price today. Emil Ollovich, of the Mammeth Shoe House, has just returned from Boston. He bought, for spot cash from some of the largest shoe factories, shoes at 40c, 50c and 60c on the dollar.

The shoes are here and will be placed on sale, commencing tomorrow, Wednesday, June 24. The store will remain closed today in order to unpack the goods and prepare for the sale. Ladies' Oxford ties as low as 75c a pair; infants' shoes, 25c; boys' serviceable dress shoes, 31 a pair; men's veal calf shoes, very stylish, $1.25. all sizes; misses' patent tip kid shoes, 75c a pair, and hundreds of other bargains. No sizes are missing in any of these bargains. They are all brand-new goods, bought at the factories cheap. The sale will commence tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, at the Mammeth Shoe House, 515-317 S. Spring street, between Third and Fourth

A COLLISION. Squeezed Between a Car and

The need of a hitching ordinance was forcibly illustrated yesterday afternoon.

D. R. Rozell, a lumber dealer, tied his horse on the east side of Spring street near Third about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The rig was not up close to the curb, but stood well out in the street. Along came a wagon belonging to the Los Angeles Farming and Milling Company, driven by Valentine Klass. An electric car came up behind him. Klass tried in vain to avoid the danger. He was caught between the car and the wagon. His horses and his front wheels passed the light rig safely, but the hub of the right rear wheel struck the left rear wheel of the buggy struck the left rear wheel of the buggy and smashed it to smithereens. The horse attached to the buggy jumped on the sidewalk and struggled to break loose, but bystanders caught it by the bridle and quieted it down.

Mr. Rozell came out and found the ruin which had been wrought. Klass very readily gave him his name and the address of the firm for which he worked. He says he has been a driver for fourteen years, and this is the first time he has had such an experience. He declares there was so little room between the rig and the car track that an accident was unavoidable.

At 'Em Again. Prof. Alexander, who will expose so-alled spiritualism at the Burbank Theater Thursday evening, desires it known that spiritualism as a religiou he does not pretend to explain. His object is to not pretend to explain. His object is to expose those who, under the cloak of spiritualism, perform certain tricks, such as clairvoyancy, slate-writing, table-rapping, twanging guitars, moving planos, communicating with the departed, etc., all of which he will show to be only clever tricks at the best, and in nowise connected with spirit land. It is this that is shaking up the commercial fakirs who rob the public under the guise of mediums, clairvoyants, slate-writers, table-rappers, etc., etc. The writers, table-rappers, etc., etc. The performance next Thursday evening will probably have some features not down on the bills of a lively nature, as Alex-ander has created no end of a row among the mediums.
